South Dakota Secretary of State

Monae L. Johnson
Secretary of State

Thomas J. Deadrick

Deputy Secretary of State

To my fellow South Dakotans:

It is my honor to dedicate the 2023 South Dakota Legislative Manual to "Women in Government". As the 30th Secretary of State, I follow in the great footsteps of previous Secretaries Shantel Krebs, Joyce Hazeltine, Alice Kundert, Gladys Pyle and many others. And now, South Dakotans are blessed to have our first female governor, Kristi Noem.

As directed by South Dakota Codified Law 2-7-1, the Secretary of State's office compiles the Legislative Manual every two years. This publication serves as a comprehensive reference source on state government. It contains information on elected state officials, judges, legislators, local and state government administration, election statistics, and South Dakota history. Why is it called the "Blue Book"? This term dates back to the fifteenth century when the English Parliament began keeping its records in large volumes covered with blue velvet. Since that time, the name Blue Book has been used to describe many forms of government manuals.

We live in a wonderful state, and it is a privilege to showcase our state to the world. Please enjoy this edition of the 2023 South Dakota Legislative Manual.

Sincerely,

Monae L. Johnson

South Dakota Secretary of State

It is my honor to dedicate the 2023 South Dakota Legislative Manual to "Women in Government"

It has been 100 years since women received the right to vote thanks to the brave actions of women like those we are honoring here.

South Dakota was one of the first states in the union to give women the right to vote. We are a small but mighty state.

Being the 30th Secretary of State in South Dakota, I follow in the great footsteps of Gladys Pyle, Alice Kundert, Joyce Hazeltine, Shantel Krebs, and join 12 other women in serving South Dakota in this capacity. And now South Dakota has our first woman governor, Kristi Noem, who was sworn into office in 2019.

Our history is full of powerful women in government, and because of the leaders dedicated in this book, future generations of women have many heroes to look to for inspiration.

I hope you enjoy reading about some of the historic female South Dakotan Trailblazers!

Monae L. Johnson South Dakota Secretary of State

Anna Rebecca Simmons (1848-1936) was a prominent suffragist in South Dakota. She was president of the South Dakota Equal Suffrage Association and was a leader in the Women's Christian Temperance Union. South Dakota was one of the first states to grant women the right to vote, thanks to help from Anna.

Mary Pyle (1866-1949) was another important suffragist in South Dakota. She spoke throughout the state convincing people to pass laws so women could vote. Pyle eventually became president of the State Woman Suffrage Association. She helped women gain full citizenship in 1918 when South Dakota granted women the right to vote. Two years later, the United States ratified the 19th Amendment granting suffrage to women nationwide. Her daughter Gladys became a very important political leader in South Dakota.

Zitkála-Šá (1876–1938) was a Native American civil rights activist and musician from South Dakota. In the 1920s she worked to gain citizenship for all Native Americans, which culminated in the passage of the Indian Citizenship Act in 1924. Her speeches and writings focused on promoting Native American history, not just in South Dakota but throughout the entire United States.

Gladys Pyle (1890-1989) was born to politically active parents. Her father, John was Attorney General of South Dakota, and her mother, Mary, as stated previously, was a prominent suffragist. She also hit historic milestones for herself, including being the first woman from South Dakota to be elected to the State Legislature and Secretary of State's office. She also became the first woman in the United States to win an election to the United States Senate.

Harriet Horning (1900-1962): First Female State Auditor, 1959-1961. Harriet served the state of South Dakota faithfully as Auditor and was the first woman to be elected to a statewide office outside of Secretary of State.

Marcella LeBeau, (1919-2021) Lakota name, Wignuke Waste Win (Pretty Rainbow Woman), was a member of the Two Kettle Band Cheyenne River Sioux Tribe. LeBeau served in World War II as a member of the US Army Nurse Corps earning six medals, one of which was the French Legion Medal of Honor, awarded to her in France in 2004. She was a founding member of the North American Indian Women's Association and was a council member for the Cheyenne River Sioux Tribe from 1991-1995. While on the council she influenced government by helping pass a smoke-free policy in tribal chambers and helped influence the tribe to pass a smoke-free-air act in 2015.

Alice Kundert (1920-2013) served 33 years in elective offices in city, county, and state government. She was Secretary of State, State Auditor, State Representative, county clerk and register of deeds, deputy superintendent of schools, and town treasurer.

She served as State Auditor from 1969 to 1979, the third woman to serve in that position and one of only three women State Auditors in the nation at that time.

She was elected Secretary of State in 1978 and served from 1979 to 1987.

Norma Klinkel (1921-2000): First Female Public Utilities Commissioner, 1975-1981. Norma became the first woman to be elected to the South Dakota Public Utilities Commission in 1974 and served the state faithfully for six years, including a stint as Vice Chair from 1977-1979.

Virginia Driving Hawk Sneve, (1933-present) is a Native American teacher and writer. She is the first South Dakotan to ever receive the National Humanities medal, which was presented to her by President Clinton. She was born and raised on the Rosebud Indian Reservation and has written children's books for decades aimed at promoting positive images of Native Americans Joyce Hazeltine (1935-2016) was elected South Dakota's 25th Secretary of State in 1986, and reelected in 1990, 1994 and 1998. At the conclusion of her 16 years as Secretary of State, Joyce was the longest serving Secretary of State in the history of South Dakota. The trademark of Joyce Hazeltine's administration and one of the keys to her success in the public eye was her commitment to running a customer friendly office.

As Secretary of State, Hazeltine completely reorganized and computerized the office. She developed one of the nation's finest effective financing statement central filing systems for farm product liens and one of the nation's first election night reporting systems run by a Secretary of State. The corporation department under her administration was one of the most efficient in the country, providing same day service to corporate customers.

Carole Hillard (1936-2007): First (and only to date) Female Lieutenant Governor, 1995-2003. Carole Hillard faithfully served the state first as a member of the House of Representatives from 1991-1994, then as Lieutenant Governor to from 1995-2003.

Mary McClure (1939-2016): First (and only to date) Female President Pro Tempore of the Senate, 1979-1989. Senator McClure became the first South Dakota Legislator to hold a leadership position in the legislature when she became President Pro Tempore of the State Senate in 1979, serving in that capacity for 11 different legislative sessions, the longest to ever hold this position.

Judith Meierhenry (1944-present) was the second woman to serve as a circuit court judge in Sioux Falls, a position she held for 14 years. She became the presiding judge for the 2nd Judicial circuit, which includes Minnehaha and Lincoln counties, in 1997. Judge Meierhenry was then the first woman to serve on the state's highest court, when she was appointed South Dakota Supreme Court justice from 2002, a position she held until 2011.

Debra Anderson (1949-2022): First (and only to date) Female Speaker of the House, 1987-1989. Debra Anderson served in the state legislature for ten years, two of which she was the presiding officer in the House of Representatives. Following her time in the legislature Anderson worked in the George H.W. Bush White House as Deputy Assistant to the President and Director of Intergovernmental Affairs, her assistant was Senator Mary McClure.

Stephanie Herseth Sandlin (1970-present): First Female to represent South Dakota in the United States House of Representatives, 2004-2011. Stephanie Herseth Sandlin comes from a very powerful political background, her paternal grandfather, Ralph, had served as Governor from 1959-1961; her paternal grandmother Lorna, had served as Secretary of State from 1973-1979; and her father Lars, had been a member of the state legislature from 1975-1986, then from 1989-1996. Stephanie became the first woman to represent South Dakota in the US House of Representatives following a special election in 2004.

Kristi Noem (1971-present) was elected in 2018 as the first female governor of South Dakota.

The Republican was elected to the South Dakota House of Representatives in 2006 and re-elected in 2008. Then, in 2010, she was elected to represent South Dakota in the U.S. House of Representatives, where she served eight years, dedicating much of her time to agriculture, combatting human trafficking, and cutting taxes.

Since being elected South Dakota's 33rd governor, Noem has invested in broadband and state security infrastructure, tackled mental health and substance abuse challenges, and created unprecedented economic growth in the state. When the COVID-19 pandemic hit, Noem kept South Dakota "Open for Business," leading to the lowest unemployment rate in recorded American history.

Governor Noem signed HB 1175 on March 14th, 2023, recognizing that state elected offices can be held by both men and women.

Chronology

The State of South Dakota is a part of the vast domain, which was acquired by the United States through the celebrated Louisiana Purchase in 1803. President Thomas Jefferson purchased the territory, which includes the present states of Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Montana, and Idaho, from France for fifteen million dollars and the assumption of certain claims held by citizens of the United States against France.

Although nine states eventually were organized out of the Louisiana Purchase, during their existence as territories, the boundaries of these divisions were subject to frequent and marked changes, with names appearing and disappearing.

As part of what was called the Louisiana Territory in 1812, the part of South Dakota lying west of the Missouri River became known as the "Mandan Territory" and the area lying east of the Missouri River became incorporated into the Missouri Territory. The eastern half of the state was included in the Michigan Territory in 1834, and two years later it became part of the Wisconsin Territory. In 1849, after the organization of Wisconsin as a state, the area east of the Missouri River was included in the Minnesota Territory. The portion of South Dakota west of the Missouri River was included in the Nebraska Territory in 1854.

The admission of Minnesota as a state in 1885 left all the country west of its boundaries along the Big Sioux River to the Missouri River without any organization, legal name, or existence. This part was, by common consent, designated by the name of Dakota, a Native American name that means "confederated" or "leagued together," and was originally derived from the great associated tribe of Native Americans, known in their own language as Dakotas.

In 1861, President James Buchanan signed the Organic Act, creating the Dakota Territory, including the present states of North and South Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, and a small part of Nebraska. By 1868, the Dakota Territory consisted of only what are North and South Dakota today. In 1889, the "Omnibus Bill" or the Enabling Act was adopted, which provided for the dividing of Dakota Territory into the states of North and South Dakota. This enabled the two Dakotas, Montana, and Washington to formulate constitutions.

Today, South Dakota is located in the heartland of the United States. It is a rectangular area approximately 370 miles by 210 miles. Its 77,047 square miles make it the 16th largest in size among the fifty states. South Dakota has a population of around 895,376.

The introductory material to the chronology was substantially derived from the "Introductory," Revised Code of South Dakota, 1903, and the "Dakota Historical Sketch," South Dakota Manual, 1905.

The total population estimate is from the Annual Estimates of the Population for Counties of South Dakota, based on July 2021 U.S. Census Data estimates.

A majority of the members of each house shall constitute a quorum, but a smaller number may adjourn from day-to-day, and may compel the attendance of absent members in such a manner and under such penalty as each house may provide.

Each house shall determine the rules of its proceedings, shall choose its own officers and employees and fix the pay thereof, except as otherwise provided in this Constitution.

- 15. The right to proceedings free from unreasonable delay, and to a prompt and final conclusion of the case and any related post-judgment proceedings;
- 16. The right, upon request, to be informed of the conviction, adjudication, sentence, disposition, place and time of incarceration, detention or other disposition of the offender, any scheduled release date of the offender, and the release of or the escape by the offender from custody;
- 17. The right, upon request, to be informed in a timely manner of all post-judgment processes and procedures, to participate in such processes and procedures, to provide information to the release authority to be considered before any release decision is made, and to be notified of any release decision regarding the offender. Any parole authority shall extend the right to be heard to any person harmed by the offender;
- 18. The right, upon request, to be informed in a timely manner of clemency and expungement procedures, to provide information to the Governor, the court, any clemency board and other authority in these procedures, and to have that information considered before a clemency or expungement decision is made, and to be notified of such decision in advance of any release of the offender; and
- 19. The right to be informed of these rights, and to be informed that a victim can seek the advice of an attorney with respect to the victim's rights. This information shall be made available to the general public and provided to each crime victim in what is referred to as a Marsy's Card.

The victim, the retained attorney of the victim, a lawful representative of the victim, or the attorney for the government, upon request of the victim, may assert and seek enforcement of the rights enumerated in this section and any other right afforded to a victim by law in any trial or appellate court, or before any other authority with jurisdiction over the case, as a matter of right. In the case of a victim who is killed or incapacitated as a result of the crime or delinquent act, or who is a minor, the term also includes any spouse, parent, child, sibling, or as designated by the court, grandparent, grandchild, or guardian. The term does not include the accused or a person whom the court finds would not act in the best interests of a deceased, incompetent, minor or incapacitated victim.

However,

before the interest and income is apportioned to the public schools, the principal shall be increased each year by an amount equal to the rate of inflation from the interest and income earned from this fund. The principal may be prudently invested as provided by law.

The proceeds of all fines collected from violations of state laws shall be paid to the county treasurer of the county in which the fine was imposed, and distributed by the county treasurer among and between all of the several public schools incorporated in such county in proportion to the number of children in each, of school age, as may be fixed by law.

The Legislature shall provide by general law for payment of the balance which shall be made in partial payments and must be fully paid up within thirty years. Interest shall be established by the Legislature. All lands may be sold for cash, provided further, that the purchaser or purchasers shall have the right or option of paying the balance in whole or in part on any interest paying date, under such rules as the Legislature may provide. Every such fund shall be deemed a trust fund held by the state, and the state shall make good all losses that may occur through any unconstitutional act or where required under the Enabling Act.

§8. Appraisal and sale of donated lands -- Separate accounts.

All lands mentioned in the preceding section shall be appraised and sold in the same manner and by the same officers and boards under the same limitations, and subject to all the conditions as to price, sale and approval, provided above for the appraisal and sale of lands for the benefit of public schools, but a distinct and separate account shall be kept by the proper officers of each of such funds.

The commissioner of school and public lands shall notify by registered mail each lessee or assignee on or before the first day of November first preceding the expiration of his lease that such lease will expire.

Such option shall be exercised by the lessee by notifying the commissioner of school and public lands by registered mail, on or before the first day of December first preceding the expiration of his lease describing the lands for which he desires a new lease, in the same manner as the same is described in his original lease.

State Seal and State Emblems

The original design of the Great Seal of South Dakota, along with the motto "Under God the People Rule", was first suggested by Dr. Joseph Ward, the founder of Yankton College. At the conclusion of the Constitutional Convention of 1885 the ultimate design and motto were adopted and then modified in 1889 in Article XXI, Miscellaneous, Section 1, of the Original State Constitution, which reads:

Seal and Coat of Arms. The design of the Great Seal of Dakota shall be as follows: A circle within which shall appear in the left foreground, a smelting furnace and other features of mining work. In the left background, a range of hills. In the right foreground, a farmer at his plow. In the right background, a herd of cattle and a field of corn.

Between the two parts thus described shall appear a river bearing a steamboat. Properly divided between the upper and lower edges of the circle shall appear the legend, "Under God the People Rule," which shall be the motto of the State of South Dakota. Exterior to this circle and within a circumscribed circle shall appear in the upper part the words "State of Dakota," in the lower part the words "Great Seal" and the date in Arabic numerals of the year in which the state shall be admitted to the Union.

It is noted that this adoption occurred four years prior to South Dakota being admitted as a state. The wording from 1885 was changed from "State of Dakota" to "State of South Dakota" in 1889.

The color interpretation of the Great Seal was not standardized until a Mitchell, SD, artist, Richard Cropp, designed the official color version in magic marker as the basis for all reproductions. This version was later revised by John Moisan from Fort Pierre, who was commissioned by Governor Bill Janklow in 1986, to create an official painted version from which all future replications are now based. In January 2016, John G. Moisan penned the following letter, documenting his memories of the State Seal:

In 1982, I transferred from the Department of Public Safety to the Bureau of Administration by, then Governor, Bill Janklow to be a forms management specialist. My job was to consolidate state forms and reduce the number and quantity of forms used by state government and to, somehow, cause agencies to share information, rather than each collecting their own data. My "first" job, however, quickly changed as the Governor found [out] about my artistic ability and directed me to paint a colored version of the South Dakota State Seal for his office.

In my research, I found the "official" South Dakota State Seal in the Secretary of State's vault in the basement of the Capitol. The "official" state seal was a black and white drawing colored with magic marker that had faded to white over time. That seal was listed in SDCL and included the artist's name and specifications. The seal in the vault was on white paper glued to a piece of foam core board and in very poor condition. I returned the seal to the vault and never used it.

After I described the situation to Governor Janklow, he directed me to paint a new official state seal that would be hung in his office. I assumed that he had coordinated with the Secretary of State at the time.

I set about, then, to recreate the new state seal for the Governor's Office. Over a period of about 8 weeks, I painted the new official state seal using acrylic paint on acid free board using the descriptions of color and panorama of the State Seal described in SDCL. The completed seal was then permanently glued to a mahogany frame and hung behind Governor Janklow's desk. Once the State Seal was hung in the Governor's Office, SDCL was changed to reflect the official changes:

1-6-1. State seal adopted--Reproductions. There is hereby adopted as the official colored seal of the State of South Dakota, a reproduction of the seal, described in article XXI, section 1 of the Constitution of the State of South Dakota, and made in conformity therewith but whose proportions and colored detail are set out specifically in accord with an original painting of the great seal produced by John G. Moisan of Fort Pierre and shall be the basis for all reproductions of the great seal of the State of South Dakota.

At one point, I rescued that very same State Seal from going to surplus property from a Governor's staff person because "the Governor didn't like it" and it was rehung behind the Governor's desk. I assume it is still there today. Since then, the version of the State Seal which hangs behind the Governor's desk has been the basis for all state seal duplications, as well as the reproductions of the South Dakota State Flag. To my knowledge, there is no notification on the State Seal that it is the "Official" State Seal.

The State Seal is not public domain. Permission must be granted by the Secretary of State, the Custodian of the Seal, for its use. This was enacted by the legislature to protect the image of the state seal and to ensure its tasteful and respectful display.

The Official State Seal was transferred from State Archives to the Secretary of State's Office in January 2017, where it is on public display in the lobby.

State Flag and Pledge

The current, official South Dakota State Flag features the state seal surrounded by a golden blazing sun in a field of sky blue. Letters reading "South Dakota, The Mount Rushmore State" – the official state nickname are arranged in a circle around the sun. However, the original flag or banner had a different design.

Front and reverse sides of the original State Flag

South Dakota had no official state flag until 1909. As recounted in Wiiyohi Bulletin, Volume II, November 1, 1948: "In 1909 Senator Ernest May of Deadwood came into the Historical Society office. Seth Bullock wanted a state flag. May asked Doane Robinson about it and was told by Robinson that Ida Anding, now Mrs. McNeil, former operator of KGFX radio of Pierre, who was then a stenographer in the Historical offices, would design him a flag. She did. It was a blazing sun, on an azure (blue) background. May liked the design, Senate Bill 208 was introduced. Later, on the floor, he moved that 'on the reverse of the blazing sun shall appear the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota in dark blue.' This was adopted and the bill passed. Money to buy two flags was appropriated. One went to the Secretary of State, and Seth Bullock of Camp No. 1, United Spanish Veterans of South Dakota, got the other."

The state flag was then designed by Ida M. Anding, legislative librarian, in 1909, according to the following specifications: "The Flag of South Dakota shall consist of a field of blue, one and two-thirds as long as it is wide, in the center of which shall be a blazing sun in gold, two-fifths as wide in diameter as the width of the flag. Above this sun shall be arranged in the arc of the circle, in gold letters, the words 'South Dakota' and below this sun in the arc of the circle shall be arranged the words in gold letters, 'The Sunshine State', and on the reverse of the blazing sun shall be printed in dark blue the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota. The edges of the flag shall be trimmed with a fringe of gold, to be in proportion to the width of the flag. The staff shall be surmounted by a spearhead to which shall be attached cord and tassels of suitable length and size."

This was the only official state flag until the year 1963. It became increasingly evident by this time that the cost to manufacture a flag with a different emblem on each side was expensive to the degree that there were few South Dakota state flags in existence, and they were seldom flown. In the legislature of 1963, House Bill 503, introduced by Representative William Sahr of Hughes County, was enacted and approved by the Governor on March 11, 1963.

It appears this was a wise decision, as the cost of the South Dakota state flag was greatly reduced, and more requests for the state flag were made than ever before. In 1992, a measure sponsored by State Representative Gordon Pederson of Pennington County, South Dakota, changed the wording on the flag to read "The Mount Rushmore State". Codified law now reads as follows:

§1-6-4. State flag - Description.

The state flag or banner shall consist of a field of skyblue one and two-thirds as long as it is wide. Centered on such field shall be the great seal of South Dakota made in conformity with the terms of the Constitution, which shall be four-ninths, the width of the flag in diameter. The seal shall be on a white background with the seal outlined in dark blue or, in the alternative, shall be on a sky-blue background with the seal outlined in dark blue thereon. Surrounding the seal in gold shall be a serrated sun whose extreme width shall be five-ninths the width of the flag. The words "South Dakota" symmetrically arranged to conform to the circle of the sun and seal shall appear in gold letters one-eighteenth the width of the field above the sun and seal and the words "The Mount Rushmore State" in like-sized gold letters and in like arrangement shall appear below the sun and seal. Flags designed of such material as may be provident for outdoor use need have no fringe but flags for indoor and display usage shall have a golden fringe one-eighteenth the width of the flag on the three sides other than the hoist.

Of the two Original State Flags that were appropriated and made, one is maintained by State Archives at the Cultural Heritage Center. The other Official 1909 State Flag was placed back on public display in the Secretary of State's Office in October 2015.

The Official Pledge to the State Flag is:

"I pledge loyalty and support to the flag and state of South Dakota, land of sunshine, land of infinite variety."

The pledge to the flag and to the state may not preempt, replace, or be recited before the pledge of allegiance to the flag of the United States.

State Animal – Coyote

(canis latrans)

Named the state animal in 1949, the coyote is a natural and adaptable predator of small game and rodents, hunting the open prairies and fields over the entire state. The coyote occurs in greatest numbers along the Missouri River, its tributaries, and in the Black Hills. The coyote appears often in the traditions and tales of Native Americans, usually as a very savvy and clever beast.

State Bird – Ring-Necked Pheasant

(phasianus colchicus)

Native to Asia, the Ring-Necked Pheasant was first successfully introduced to Spink County, South Dakota in 1908 by A.E. Cooper and E.L. Ebbert. Easily recognized by its colorful plumage, the pheasant is also known for its delicious meat. Since it is primarily a Midwestern bird, pheasant is considered a delicacy in many states. The Ring-Necked Pheasant officially earned the state bird designation in 1943.

State Soil - Houdek Soil

Houdek was designated the state soil in 1990. According to the United States Department of Agriculture:

Houdek soil, a deep, well drained, loamy soil, represents many soils formed in South Dakota under the influence of prairie grass. The surface layer is dark colored from decayed plants and other material that has been deposited over thousands of years.

Houdek soil is of major economic importance to South Dakota because the productive Houdek soils are often used for cropland and rangeland. Small grains, corn, sunflowers, and soybeans are commonly grown crops. Alfalfa and grass-alfalfa mixtures provide hay and pasture for grazing livestock. Large areas of Houdek soil are in native range. Crops and grasses grown on the Houdek soil also provide habitat for wildlife.

State Drink – Milk

(lac vacuum)

Dairy producers are one of the major industries in South Dakota, producing nearly 246 million gallons of milk in 2014 and generating approximately $427 million in sales annually. Milk was adopted as the official state drink in 1986.

State Insect – Honeybee

(apis mellifera L)

South Dakota is a leader in honey production. In recognition of its importance to the state's farm economy, the honeybee was adopted as the state insect in 1978. The state's mild, clear, clover honey is often shipped out-of-state to be blended with darker honey.

State Fossil – Triceratops

A horned dinosaur of the late Cretaceous period (about 66 to 68 million years ago) is the state fossil. The Triceratops was an herbivorous ceratopsid (quadrupedeal), who may have used its horns and frill for combat or display in courtship. Discovered in Harding County in 1927, the skeleton is now on display in Rapid City at the Museum of Geology, South Dakota School of Mines and Technology.

State Grass – Western Wheatgrass

(pascopyrum/agropyron smithii)

This variety of wheat is a common grass that is one of the few found throughout South Dakota. It is a long lived, cool season species that has coarse blue-green leaves with prominent veins. Because of this bluish appearance, it has sometimes been called bluestem wheatgrass or blue joint. The sheaths are hairy, and the purplish auricles typically clasp the stem. It is grown primarily as feed for livestock and harvested for its seed. Western Wheatgrass was named the state grass in 1970.

State Flower – American Pasque

(pulsatilla hirsutissima)

Also called the May Day flower, the American Pasque grows wild throughout the state. In 1903, South Dakota law set forth that "the floral emblem of this state shall be the American pasque flower with the motto 'I lead." South Dakota is the only state which has an emblem with a motto instead of simply a flower. The blooming of these five-petal, lavender flowers is one of the first signs of spring in South Dakota. The pasque is a member of the anemone family.

State Jewelry - Black Hills Gold

Black Hills Gold jewelry was first created in the 1870s by French goldsmith Henri LeBeau. Today, this beautiful jewelry is created and manufactured exclusively in the Black Hills. Each design incorporates the motif of grape clusters and leaves in tricolor combinations of green, rose, and yellow gold, making it easily recognizable. The state jewelry was designated in 1988.

State Gemstone - Fairburn Agate

Fairburn Agate is a semiprecious stone that was first discovered near Fairburn, South Dakota. Found primarily in an area extending from Orella, Nebraska, to Farmingdale, South Dakota, it is used in jewelry and is a favorite of rock collectors. Fairburn agates are noted for their strikingly contrasted, thin bands of natural colors, generally yellowish-brown with narrow opaque white bands, or dark red with white bands. This designation was made in 1966.

State Mineral – Rose Quartz

This pink colored quartz was discovered near Custer, South Dakota, in the 1880s. It is mined in the southern Black Hills and is used primarily for ornaments and jewelry. In South Dakota, the color of rose quartz ranges from the pale shades of pink to rose-pink to rose-red. Occasionally, it has a faint purplish or lavender cast. This designation was made in 1966.

State Nickname – The Mount Rushmore State

The state nickname became official in 1992. The Mount Rushmore State refers to the mountain sculpture created by Gutzon Borglum over a period of 14 years. Before that South Dakota was known as the "Sunshine State"; the "Coyote State"; the "Artesian State", the "Blizzard State"; "The Land of Plenty"; and "The Land of Infinite Variety."

State Fish – Walleye

(stizostedion vitreum)

Designated as the state fish in 1992, the walleye is the fish most sought after by South Dakota anglers, not only because it is one of the most challenging adversaries, but because of its delicious and delicate taste. Found in lakes and rivers across the state, walleyes are most common in the Missouri River system and in the glacial lakes area of northeastern South Dakota. The Museum of Wildlife, Science, and Industry, in Webster, is designated as the site of the State Fishing Museum.

State Musical Instrument – Fiddle

The fiddle was designated the official state musical instrument in 1989. Fiddle is another name for the bowed string musical instrument more often called a violin. It is also a colloquial term for the instrument used by players in all genres, including classical music. Fiddle is also a common term among musicians who play folk music on the violin. Wilbur Foss, a Scotland, South Dakota, native, organized the South Dakota Old Time Fiddlers Association. The association has been in existence for over thirty years.

State Tree – Black Hills Spruce

(picea glauca densata)

The Black Hills Spruce, named in 1947, as the state tree, is a member of the evergreen family. Black Hills Spruce is a naturally occurring variety of white spruce native to South Dakota. The pyramid shaped tree is characterized by dense foliage of short, blue—green needles and slender cones. The largest spruce tree is 95 feet tall with a canopy spread of 42 feet. The Black Hills Spruce is very wind firm, not damaged by heavy snow or ice storms, and can live 80 or more years in windbreaks. Deer will normally not eat this species unless nothing else is available.

State Dessert - Kuchen

This quintessential German Russian pastry is a sweet dough crust filled with custard, which is served plain or studded with fruit, such as prunes, peaches, blueberries, and apples. Kuchen was designated as the official state dessert in 2000.

State Bread - Frybread

Frybread has been part of Native American family meals for generations. A mixture of flour, sugar, salt and oil, the dough is then fried in hot oil. Frybread is served both at home and public events, such as fairs and pow-wows. With House Bill 1205, the 2005 Legislature designated fry bread as the official bread of South Dakota.

State "Nosh"/Food - Chislic

While Chislic may vary slightly in preparation from region to region, it is traditionally prepared very simply. Cubed mutton or lamb (or alternately beef or venison), generally no bigger than a half-inch, are cooked in a deep fryer. After cooking, while the meat cools on a paper towel, it is flavored with garlic salt, or other varieties of seasoned salts. The cubes are eaten hot, using toothpicks. With Senate Bill 96, the 2018 Legislature designated Chislic as the official food or "nosh" of South Dakota.

State Sport - Rodeo

Rodeos are rooted in South Dakota history, as people across the state gather to both watch and participate. They are a time-honored tradition throughout the state. Rodeos are generally comprised of the following events: tie-down roping, team roping, steer wrestling, saddle bronc riding, bareback bronc riding, bull riding, and barrel racing. These events are divided into two basic categories: the rough stock events and the timed events. Rodeo became the official sport of the State of South Dakota in 2003.

State Indigenous Musical Instrument - Traditional "Dakota" Flute

The Dakota flute is one of the oldest instruments in North America. Its current form arose in the 1980's and utilizes a Japanese-style tuning.

While it is specifically recognized as the Dakota flute in the bill, the term Dakota can be used to represent the Oceti Sakowin (oh-CHEH-tee shah-KOH-wee) language as a general term. This includes both the Nakota and Lakota languages.

This designation was made in 2022.

State Quilt - Star Quilt

Patterns for this quilt are composed of small diamond pieces sewn together to create a large eight-point star that encompasses the entire quilt top. These quilts grew out of the tradition of Lakota, Nakota, Dakota warriors being honored when they returned from a battle, hunt, or vision quest.

Star Quilts represent honor and generosity to the Lakota people. They may be used to mark events, honoring those who have passed, and many other achievements.

The Star Quilt recognizes our Lakota, Nakota, Dakota culture, artists, and quilters. It became the official quilt of South Dakota in 2022.

State Hall of Fame

The South Dakota Hall of Fame is a nonprofit, governmental organization, recognizing South Dakotans who have contributed to our state's progress, forged our way of life, and shaped our values. The Hall of Fame honors those who built our great state and those who continue to contribute to future developments. It is dedicated exclusively to the preservation and extension of our state's heritage.

The Hall of Fame was established in 1974 and was originally located in Fort Pierre. The State Legislature officially recognized the South Dakota Hall of Fame in 1996. The doors opened at its permanent location in Chamberlain on June 3, 2000.

U.S. Congressional Delegation

United States Senator John Thune	102
United States Senator M. Michael Rounds	104
United States Representative Dusty Johnson	105
Former Members of Congress.	106

United States -Senator John Thune

Address: 511 Dirksen

Senate Office Building

Washington, DC 20510

Phone: (202) 224-2321

Internet: www.thune.senate.gov

Birthdate: January 7, 1961

Hometown: Murdo, SD

Affiliation: Republican

John Thune grew up in Murdo, South Dakota. His interest in politics was sparked at a young age after making five of six free throws during a freshman high school basketball game. He was later greeted by a spectator who said, "I noticed you missed one." That spectator happened to be well-known sports enthusiast and South Dakota U.S. Representative Jim Abdnor. The introduction was the start of a friendship that ignited John's career in public service.

John received his undergraduate degree at Biola University and his Master's degree in Business Administration from the University of South Dakota. Upon completion of his Master's Degree in 1984, he married Kimberley Weems, a native of Doland, South Dakota.

John's attraction to public service took him to Washington, D.C. to work for that sports enthusiast and then-U.S. Senator Jim Abdnor. He then served at the Small Business Administration under an appointment from President Ronald Reagan.

In 1989, John and his family returned to South Dakota, where he served as the Executive Director of the South Dakota Republican Party. In 1991, Governor George S. Mickelson appointed him the State Railroad Director, a position he held until 1993, when he became Executive Director of the South Dakota Municipal League.

In 1996, with a shoestring budget and the support of family and friends, John won his first term as South Dakota's lone member of the U.S. House of Representatives. John was reelected to a second term by the largest margin in South Dakota history. He returned again to Washington in 2001 to serve his third term in the House.

John then honored his 1996 campaign pledge to serve only three terms in the U.S. House of Representatives. After a narrow loss in a U.S. Senate race in 2002, he won his current U.S. Senate seat in 2004, when he made history by defeating a sitting U.S. Senate party leader for the first time in 52 years.

In 2010, John was elected to serve a second term in the U.S. Senate in a rare unopposed race. He was only the third Republican and the only South Dakotan to run unopposed for the U.S. Senate since direct elections were created in 1913. John was elected to a third term in 2016.

For the 117th Congress, John serves on the Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry Committee; the Commerce, Science, and Transportation Committee; and the Finance Committee. He serves as the ranking member of the Commerce Committee's Subcommittee on Communications, Media, and Broadband, and he serves as the ranking member of the Finance Committee's Subcommittee on Taxation and IRS Oversight. He also serves as the Senate Republican Whip, the number two position in Senate Republican leadership, and has previously served as chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee from 2009–2011 and chairman of the Senate Republican Conference from 2012-2018.

John and his wife Kimberley live in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, and they have two grown daughters and five grandchildren. In his free time, John enjoys spending time with his family, pheasant hunting, and running.

A lifelong South Dakotan, Senator Rounds was born in Huron, the eldest of 11 siblings. He earned a bachelor's degree in political science from South Dakota State University. In the private sector, Rounds built a successful insurance and real estate business with offices throughout the state. He currently resides in Fort Pierre, where he enjoys spending time with his four grown children and ten grandchildren.

Rounds previously served as the 31st governor of South Dakota from 2003 – 2011, easily winning reelection in 2006. From 1991 to 2000, he was elected five times to the South Dakota State Senate. In 1995, his colleagues selected him to serve as Senate Majority Leader, a position that he held for six years. During his time in state government, Rounds was committed to growing the economy, keeping taxes low and strengthening South Dakota families.

On January 3rd, 2021, Senator Marion Michael "Mike" Rounds was sworn into his second term to the United States Senate. Senator Rounds serves on five committees: Armed Services; Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs; Veterans' Affairs; Foreign Relations; and Indian Affairs..

Governor Kristi Noem is a wife, a mother, and a lifelong rancher, farmer, and small business owner.

In 2010, after serving in the South Dakota legislature for several years, Noem was elected to serve as South Dakota's lone member of the U.S. House of Representatives. During her time in Congress, in addition to many other successes, Governor Noem helped pass the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act, which put $2,400 back in the pockets of the average South Dakota family.

In 2018, with the platform of protecting South Dakotans against tax increases, government growth, federal intrusion, and government secrecy, she was elected as South Dakota's first-ever female Governor.

As Governor, Noem has respected the rights of her people by trusting them to exercise their personal responsibility to make the best decisions for themselves, their loved-ones, and – in turn – their communities. This approach has been most evident in her response to the COVID-19 pandemic: Governor Noem never ordered a single business or church to close and never issued a statewide shelter-in-place order.

Despite all of this, Governor Noem often says that her greatest accomplishment is raising her three children, Kassidy, Kennedy, and Booker, with her husband Bryon. All have a deep love for their family and an even deeper love for the Lord.

Larry Rhoden is South Dakota's 39th lieutenant governor. Larry is a lifelong West River rancher, a dedicated husband and father, and a proven leader with a record of service for South Dakota. He also serves as Governor Noem's Agriculture Ambassador.

Growing up in the church, Larry understood true service at a young age. After graduating high school, he joined the South Dakota National Guard, serving six years and carrying on a family legacy of military service that began in the Revolutionary War. While his children were young, he served as a church trustee, earned a seat on the local school board, and led the Board of Directors for the area Cenex.

In 2000, Larry was elected to the state legislature. During his time as a citizen legislator, his peers repeatedly selected him to serve in leadership, and he's shown an aptitude for getting things done. Larry has served as House Majority Leader and has chaired both the Senate and House State Affairs Committees. Larry worked with Governor Noem to reform South Dakota's tax code, led efforts to repeal the so-called "Trucker's Tax," and shaped legislation to limit the government's eminent domain authority. His work earned him the American Conservative Union's highest ranking in 2017. He served as Interim Secretary of the South Dakota Department of Agriculture from May 2020 to September 2020.

Larry, who currently runs a cow-calf operation and custom welding business, continues to live on the ranch where he was born and raised. He and his wife, Sandy, have four boys, three daughtersin-law, and four grandchildren.

Brock was born while his parents, Don and Lana, lived in Willow Lake. He spent his childhood in Hoven, and later in Doland. Brock graduated from Doland High School in 1994 and went on to earn his Bachelor of Science with majors in Business Management and Marketing and a minor in Economics from Northern State University in 1999. While in college, Brock served on the Student Senate for two years. He was elected Student Body President for the 1998-

99 school year. He also worked as a resident assistant for three years and served as a Legislative Intern. College activities included baseball, oral interpretation, College Republicans, Campus Crusade For Christ, and InterVarsity Christian Fellowship. He was inducted into Phi Eta Sigma National Honor Society, and he graduated magna cum laude.

After college, he moved to Clark where he managed a local small business. In 2000, Brock ran successfully for the SD Senate, which began a 22-year run of service to his district. Over the years, he served eight total counties, seeing his district reconfigured three times due to redistricting. Legislative experiences included 12 years on the Appropriations Committee, 6 years on the Executive Board of the Legislative Research Council and served as chair or vice-chair on several different standing committees. Brock's greatest honor as a legislator was being elected twice by his peers to serve as the President Pro Tempore of the Senate. Besides state government, Brock's passion is baseball. He has served a baseball coach for nine different age groups in his local community over the past 22 years and also serves on the South Dakota Amateur Baseball commission. When not spending time with legislative or baseball duties, Brock spends time substitute teaching, driving bus for local school and athletic groups, and works at the family restaurant in Doland.

As Commissioner of School and Public Lands, Brock oversees the management of state trust lands, with a focus on returning investment income to public education. The office leases in excess of 760,000 surface acres of public land and oversees more than 5 million acres of state-owned mineral rights, which provide for several oil, gas, and mineral leases that contribute to the School and Public Lands trust fund. The fund returns millions of investment dollars to the K-12 and Higher Education systems. The SPL Office also oversees and works to maintain upwards of 100 dams on lakes across the state. Also, as Commissioner, Brock is a statutory member of the SD Investment Council, which is responsible for investing a total of over $19 billion of state funds. Brock and his wife Kelli have recently relocated to Fort Pierre from Clark and Rapid City, respectively.

Capitol Complex

The Capitol Complex, located on the Missouri River bluffs overlooking Pierre, is comprised of approximately 220 acres of state property that includes 23 state office buildings, over 12 acres of parking and more than 11 miles of sidewalk. Other features include the Fighting Stallions Memorial, several war memorials and monuments, Hilger's Gulch Park, Governor's Grove, a five-acre lake, two-acre tree bank, many flower gardens, and host to several bronze governor statues along the Trail of Governors.

State Capitol Building

Construction on the elaborately designed and decorated Capitol Building began in 1905, after a protracted fight over which town was to become the state's capitol. On June 25, 1908, when the corner stone for the South Dakota State Capitol was laid, Governor Coe Crawford said in his address: "The new Capitol will do more than comfortably accommodate officers who are to labor within its walls for the people whom they will serve. It will stand throughout the coming years as an expression of beauty and art, and as the people come and go and linger within its walls, they will see in it an expression of the soul of the state." The completed building was accepted on June 30, 1910. The Capitol building was designed and constructed by Minneapolis architects Bell & Detweiler as a modified version of their similar design of the Montana Capitol. Total cost of the Capitol Building was approximately $1,247,000, $7.10 per square foot. During the late 1930s, serious structural problems began to develop because of the extended drought. Works Progress Administration crews were enlisted to underpin the foundation, repair floor and wall cracks, and repaint the entire building, covering over the elaborate wall decorations. An annex was added in 1932, to the north side of the original Capitol, bringing the size to more than 141,000-square feet. The Capitol measures 190 feet wide, 292 feet long, and 161 feet tall. Its materials include native field stone, Ortonville granite, Indiana limestone, and Vermont and Italian marble.

In the late 1970s, the Governor and South Dakota Legislature approved a large-scale program to restore and renovate the Capitol back to its original grandeur. This restoration was completed in 1989, in time for the State's Centennial celebration. The building attracts visitors from across the nation and world to see its architecture, artworks, and more than 100 events that are held annually in the building, including the dazzling display of Christmas trees between Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The State Capitol houses the Legislature, Supreme Court, Constitutional Officers, Public Utilities Commission, Digital Dakota Network, and several Bureaus of Executive Management.

The first floor of the Capitol is also known as the building's Art Gallery. This area features the Governors Gallery displaying portraits of every governor of South Dakota since statehood as well as numerous portraits of Supreme Court Justices of South Dakota. A collection of dolls dressed in miniature replicas of the formalwear worn by the spouses of the governors at their inaugurations is located in the rotunda area of the first floor. In the annex west hallway, you will find the Hall of Honor which was moved from the Soldiers and Sailors Building to the Capitol in 2017. The Hall of Honor display recognizes South Dakota veterans who have been awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty.

Capitol Lake

Capitol Lake, located adjacent to the Capitol to the east, is a five-acre man-made lake. Fed by a warm water artesian well, the picturesque lake is an oasis for Canadian geese in the winter. Capitol Lake was a popular ice-skating attraction early in the 1900s, until weak ice led to the loss of life on the lake. Up until the mid-1970s, the lake was also a popular fishing hole for the youth of the Pierre area.

Governor's Residence

When South Dakota became a state in 1889, it began a fifteen-year controversy over a permanent location for the state Capitol. In the 1904 election, voters decided that Pierre would become the permanent seat of government in South Dakota and plans for a new Capitol building were approved.

With the new Capitol building under construction, there was no permanent housing in Pierre for the First Family. From 1889 until 1937, the South Dakota Governor was given a housing allowance of $75.00 per month by the Legislature and was responsible for finding living quarters. Several homes still standing in Pierre today have served as the personal living quarters of the First Family of South Dakota.

In 1925, the state legislature purchased a small yellow cottage, located on the eastern shore of Capitol Lake, for the purpose of providing housing for South Dakota's First Family. The cottage served as the Governor's Residence until 1936, when Governor Tom Berry (1933-1937) decided home improvements were needed. He lacked legislative support to build a Governor's Residence with state funds and was forced to turn to the federal government for aid. In 1936, the Governor's Residence project was approved by the federal government and plans were prepared by Resettlement Administration architects. The Works Progress Administration financed the project and began construction on the 57x97 foot, two-story structure. The home was built from native brick, lumber, and concrete, and replaced the original cottage, which was sold for $1,270 and was moved to another location in Pierre; however, the exact location is not known.

From 1937 until 2003, the former Governor's Residence served as private living quarters and a public building for all South Dakota governors and their families. Because of severe infrastructure problems and outdated facilities, the Bureau of Administration and the Capitol Complex Restoration and Beautification Commission recommended that the Governor's Residence be replaced with a new facility that would better serve the needs of the governor, first family, and the citizens of South Dakota. The former Governor's Residence was officially closed on November 3, 2003.

The former Residence was sold, disassembled and reassembled on a 14-acre property near the Rapid City Airport. In 2017, it was purchased by Landmark Community Church. The church as developed in the property but kept the residence its original. Identified as "The Original Governor's Mansion", the Residence serves as office and meeting space for the church, and every December is adorned with Christmas trees and decorations throughout, in the tradition of the South Dakota Capitol at Christmas time. It is free and open to the public. In a collaborative effort between the State of South Dakota, South Dakota Community Foundation, Pierre Economic Development Corporation, and the Capitol Complex Restoration and Beautification Commission was implemented, and construction began in earnest on the new Governor's Residence in the spring of 2004. Under the supervision of the general contractor, Henry Carlson Company of Sioux Falls, hundreds of contractors, and subcontractors worked tirelessly until construction was completed in June of 2005. Thousands of South Dakotans and numerous corporations and companies from across the state contributed substantial amounts of money, products, and services.

Measuring approximately 14,000-square feet, the new, two-story Residence is poised peacefully on the eastern shore of Capitol Lake in the precise location of the previous Governor's Residence. The new Residence serves as the private residence for the current governor and the first family and a facility capable of hosting guests for gubernatorial public events.

The private side of the Governor's Residence features offices for the Governor and his or her spouse, full living quarters, including a kitchen, living room, dining room, family room, and five family bedrooms. The grand dining room and the Governor's private office include fireplaces accented with rock blasted from Crazy Horse Memorial in the Black Hills. The public side of the Governor's residence includes a grand dining hall, which accommodates approximately 100 guests, a commercial kitchen and cooking facilities, greeting area, and two staterooms or guest quarters.

The exterior of the Governor's Residence is adorned with field stone from near Miller, South Dakota, while other portions of the exterior feature copper flashing, specially cast concrete, South Dakota brick, and numerous roof adornments to add to the exterior appeal.

The design and construction of the South Dakota Governor's Residence will be a source of pride and honor for generations of South Dakotans to come.

Hilger's Gulch and Governor's Grove

The gulch behind the Capitol Building was once owned by Anson Hilger. In 1986, Governor William Janklow proposed turning it into a parkway with a bridge and sidewalks. In 1989, Governor's Grove, which includes hundreds of planted trees and 31 monuments dedicated to each former governor, along with the Gates of the Counties, which was constructed with stones native to each county in the state. Veterans' groups provide 100 U.S. flags that are flown on patriotic holidays and special events. The gulch includes a 1.1-mile lighted walking trail and a scenic view of the Capitol building.

Visitor Center

The Visitor Center was built in 1971 and housed the maintenance shop for many years. In 1998, the shop area was converted into a Visitor Center, complete with a conference room that can be reserved for use by the public. Restrooms and a kitchen are located near the conference room. A gallery runs along the front of the Visitor Center. The rooftop viewing area provides a panoramic view of Capitol Lake. The Center's lobby is open year-round during regular business hours.

Soldiers and Sailors World War Memorial Building

Originally a memorial to South Dakotans serving in World War I, the Soldiers and Sailors Building was built in 1931, to house the state museum for many years. In 1990, it became an office building and houses the Departments of Military and Veterans Affairs. Originally constructed in 1974, and recently renovated in 2009, the MacKay Building serves as the state repository and reference library, as well as an office for state agencies. The 48,000-square foot building is named after Mercedes MacKay, State Librarian from 1939 to 1973. The building is located at 800 Governor's Drive.

Sutherland Building

The Sutherland Building, named after John Sutherland, who was instrumental in getting Pierre named as the South Dakota's capital city as well as a strong advocate for obtaining funding for the construction of the State Capitol building, currently houses the Department of Public Safety. Formerly an old federal building and Commerce Building, the original courtroom motif was retained and provides a regal office area for the Division of Licensing. The 21,300-square foot building is located at 118 West Capitol Avenue.

George S. Mickelson Criminal Justice Center

The Mickelson Center was completed in 2005 and houses a wide variety of state law enforcement agencies. The 152,700-square foot facility houses the Attorney General, administration and staff, the Division of Criminal Investigation, law enforcement training, forensic laboratory, State Radio, and an emergency operations center. The building is named after the state's 28th Governor and former assistant attorney general and state's attorney who was killed when a state airplane crashed on April 19, 1993, near Dubuque, Iowa. The building is located at 1302 East Highway 14.

Dr. Robert Hayes Building

Originally constructed as a health laboratory, the Hayes Building currently houses the administrative office of the Department of Health. The 10,500-square foot building is named after the physician and health care pioneer who served as Secretary of Health from 1970 to 1975. The building is located at 600 East Capitol Avenue between the Capitol and the Visitors Center.

State Health Laboratory

Completed in 1997, the State Health Laboratory has facilities for bacteriological, serological, virological, and chemical testing, as well as office spaces for the Department of Health. The 36,100- square foot building is located at 615 East Fourth Street.

Becker-Hansen (Transportation) Building

Built in 1964, the Becker–Hansen Building is the central headquarters for the Department of Transportation, including aeronautics, highways, and railroads. The name was changed to the Becker–Hansen Building in tribute to Ron Becker and David Hansen, who were killed when the state plane crashed on April 19, 1993. This 90,200-square foot building is located at 700 East Broadway Avenue.

Bureau of Administration Building

A former church, this 4,500-square foot building houses various executive management bureau staff, including the Bureau of Administration central office. It is located at 320 North Nicollet Avenue.

Dolly-Reed Plaza

The State purchased the Capitol Lake Plaza Building in 2007. The 29,000-square foot office is a model of modern energy efficiency and includes solar panels and a geothermal heating and cooling system. In September 2012 the building was renamed the Dolly–Reed Plaza in tribute to Roland Dolly and Ron Reed, who were killed when the state plane crashed on April 19, 1993. The building houses various state agencies and is located at 711 East Wells.

Cultural Heritage Center

In honor of South Dakota's centennial anniversary, the Cultural Heritage Center opened in 1989 as the headquarters of the South Dakota State Historical Society. The 63,000-square foot, earth covered Center is located at 900 Governors Drive, above Hilger's Gulch, north of the State Capitol. The Center holds the archives, historic preservation, and museum, as well as the research and publishing operations of the State Historical Society. The design of the Center recalls the ancient Arikara earth lodges that once dotted the Missouri River Valley, and the grounds are covered with native Dakota flora.

Best known as a museum, the Cultural Heritage Center contains a 13,900-square foot gallery, featuring award winning exhibits that depict the state's rich cultural heritage and history. A full-size tipi, recreated sod house, milking shed, and WNAX gas station provide drama and fun for visitors to the center. Ever changing exhibits highlight various themes and topics.

For genealogists, researchers, students, scholars, and the historically curious, the research room in the Cultural Heritage Center makes available over three million cubic feet of documents, films, maps, photographs, and recordings. In its State Archives, the Society maintains the records of government agencies and papers of elected officials. Microfilm copies of the state's newspapers and state census records are popular collections.

Fighting Stallions Memorial

The Fighting Stallions Memorial was built as a tribute to the eight South Dakotans who died when a state plane crashed on April 19, 1993, near Dubuque, Iowa, while on an economic development mission. The Fighting Stallions Memorial is located near Capitol Lake. The base of the memorial contains dedications to the men who died: South Dakota's 28th Governor, George Mickelson; Office of Energy Policy Director, Ron Reed: Governor's Office of Economic Development Commissioner, Roland Dolly; First Bank of South Dakota President/CEO, David Birkeland: Falls Development

Foundation President, Roger Hainje; Northern States Power Chief Executive, Angus Anson; and state pilots, Ron Becker and David H. Hansen.

"Fighting Stallions" is enlarged in bronze from the 1935 mahogany carving by South Dakota sculptor Korczak Ziolkowski. The sculpture was selected because it symbolizes South Dakota's struggle to overcome adversity, desire for achievement and courage to believe in the future. It is a tribute to those who have made the ultimate sacrifice.

Civil War Monument Memorial Park

This monument was erected in 1918, and later dedicated on June 1, 1920, in remembrance of the sacrifices of the veterans of the Civil War. Governor Peter Norbeck led the original dedication ceremony and Governor Dennis Daugaard led a rededication ceremony on June 1, 2015, which included a reenactment of the original ceremony. For the rededication, the small triangular park where the monument is located was enhanced with sidewalks, lighting, and a flagpole, providing the proper setting the memorial deserves.

Emergency Medical Service Memorial

The memorial honors emergency medical services personnel who have fallen while in the line of duty.

Law Enforcement Officers Memorial

This memorial is in tribute to the South Dakota law enforcement officers who served and sacrificed their lives in the line of duty.

Fallen Firefighter Memorial

Officially dedicated October 12, 1997, the memorial honors the living memory of all firefighters who have given up so much of themselves in service to their fellow South Dakotans. It also honors firefighters who have made the ultimate sacrifice. The firefighters inscribed on the memorial gave their lives to protect neighbors, friends, and those they never knew. They are the firefighters who answered their "last alarm" (taken from the words of Richard Hainje, Assistant Fire Chief).

Korean / Vietnam Veterans Memorial

The Korean/Vietnam Veterans Memorial is located near the Flaming Fountain on Capitol Lake. The monument made of South Dakota granite, was dedicated on May 30, 1986, to honor 349 South Dakotans who died or who are missing in action in the Korean and Vietnam Wars.

The Memorial Fountain and Eagle Statue

The Memorial Fountain is a Veterans Memorial located on the shores of Capitol Lake. The monument is dedicated to the South Dakotans who have fought for their country in time of war. A daytime view shows the fountain, stone memorial, and waterfall, along with the "eagle" statue specifically dedicated to the members of the great Sioux Nation who fought for our country and their immense contributions to our Nation's armed forces in time of war.

This well, drilled in the winter of 1909-1910, has a depth of 1,350 feet and flows at 700 gallons per minute with a water temperature of 92 degrees. It originally provided natural gas to the city of Pierre and was also used to heat the Capitol. In the late 1950s, the main lines rusted out and the well was abandoned. The natural flow stabilized the warm water lake. In the mid-1960s, it was discovered that the natural gas released would burn if ignited and the idea of a flaming fountain was conceived It was first ignited in August of 1967 and burned perpetually for many years. In recent years, the flame has not been able to sustain itself and no longer dances over the fountain.

World War II Memorial

The construction of a World War II Memorial on the Capitol grounds was announced in March 2000, by Governor William J. Janklow to pay tribute to all the past and present South Dakotans who contributed to the World War II effort.

South Dakota rallied to our country's defense and provided vital support to the war effort on the frontline and the home front. South Dakota participated in many ways in the war effort, including:

- More than 68,000 South Dakota men and women enrolled in the armed services.
- Over 2,200 servicemen gave the ultimate sacrifice and never returned home.
- South Dakota was home to 7 military establishments during World War I.
- South Dakota was vital to the Red Cross and USO efforts to support our troops overseas.
- South Dakota continued its agricultural production to feed the country and our troops during World War II and for the world relief effort following the war.
- South Dakota supported the financing of the war by purchasing War Bonds.
- South Dakota schools and teachers were vital to preparing students for entry into military service during the war years.

The memorial consists of six bronze figures representing the branches of service in which South Dakotans served during WWII. They are portrayed as warriors fresh from battle; the memories burnt into them of the horrors and atrocities of war, as well as the acts of selflessness, bravery, and valor. They are not intended to be spit and polish soldiers on parade, rather warriors in the field of honor. They are to be a reminder for all of us what would the world be like today if the United States of America and the Allied countries had not prevailed in World War II. They are set on a peninsula that was constructed into Capitol Lake. The bronze warriors face the current Korean and Vietnam Memorials and flaming fountain. The figures are from six-feet to six-feet, seven-inches in height and weigh close to two tons. A native Dakota granite stone is in front of the bronzes and is inscribed with "South Dakota WWII Warriors: Why they fought—For Flag—For Country—For All of Us."

The memorial is an everlasting monument to thank them and immortalize their bravery.

Korean War Memorial - Forgotten War – Remembered Heroes

The Korean War was an extremely bloody conflict. The United States lost 54,000 troops in just 3 years, nearly as many as those lost in the decade-long Vietnam War. There were an estimated 1,313,000 casualties and 1,000,000 refuges during this 'Forgotten War'.

Unlike their comrades from WWII, the Korean veterans returned to life in the states without fanfare or acclaim. Even though Korean War veterans' heroic efforts were not derided like those of the Vietnam veterans, the American public often ignored the Korean War veterans. This was partly due to the political climate that never set a victorious outcome to the war.

The South Dakota Korean War Memorial portrays an American GI braving enemy forces and the artic weather during the Chosin Battle. The soldier is still fighting as he glances over at his fallen brethren, their names now upon a wall. He is low on ammunition, frostbitten, tired, and unshaven, but with a look of determination, he gives the soldiers a Centurion salute and completes his mission.

Dedication of the Korean War Memorial was announced on September 18, 2004, by Governor M. Michael Rounds.

Vietnam War Memorial

The South Dakota Vietnam War Memorial is a tribute to the veterans who returned home from the war to fight a sometimes more painful battle on the home front. Vietnam was the first war to be brought directly to the American public's living room with an unending display of graphic imagery: U.S. soldiers firing at unseen enemies in jungles and across rice paddies; medics dodging enemy fire to reach the side of a young soldier covered in blood and near death; and clouds of black smoke rolling skyward from the burning huts of a village destroyed to keep it out of the hands of the Vietcong. The merits of the war were not just debated at podiums and in war rooms but over dinner tables, in the streets, and in the field itself.

As casualties increased and the war grew ever more unpopular in the United States, Vietnam soldiers heralded as heroes in the jungles were condemned as no better than criminals in their hometowns. The South Dakota Vietnam War Memorial takes one soldier, as a symbol of the many South Dakotans who served during this violent conflict and elevates him to the status they all deserve: brave individuals who honorably served their country at a time when it took as much courage to come home as it did to fight.

Dedication of the Vietnam War Memorial was announced on September 16, 2006, by Governor M. Michael Rounds.

The Purple Heart Memorial

The South Dakota Military Order of the Purple Heart gathered on August 7, 2016, to rededicate their memorial, which is dedicated to all men and women wounded in all our nation's wars. The Purple Heart Memorial, provided by the National Military Order of the Purple Heart Foundation, was originally placed in front of the Soldiers and Sailors World War Memorial Building in 2004. Members of the South Dakota Military Order of the Purple Heart worked to have the memorial relocated to Capitol Lake where many of the other veteran memorials are located. In 2015, their dream became a reality.

Black Hills State University Spearfish, South Dakota

BLACK HILLS

STATE UNIVERSITY

History

Black Hills State University (BHSU) was established by the Dakota Territorial Legislature in 1883 as Spearfish Normal School. By 1924, the school was authorized to adopt a four-year curriculum leading to a Bachelor of Science in education degree. Known informally as a teacher's college during the '20s and '30s, the name was officially changed to Black Hills Teachers College in 1941. On July 1, 1964, in recognition of the broadening educational opportunities offered by the college, the Legislature officially changed the name to Black Hills State College. Black Hills State's role in the South Dakota higher education system has continued to grow and evolve over recent decades. The State Legislature changed the college's name to Black Hills State University, effective July 1, 1989. Dr. Laurie S. Nichols became the University's 11th president in 2019.

Accreditation

The University is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission; AACSB International (the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business); Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP); the National Association of Schools of Music, and the National Association for Sport and Physical Education. The University is also a member of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities and the South Dakota Department of Education.

Objective

Black Hills State University is committed to academic excellence through 51 bachelor's degree programs, as well as eight master's degree programs and five associate degree programs. The curriculum is delivered through three colleges: Business and Natural Sciences. Education and Behavioral Sciences, and Liberal Arts. By virtue of its location in the Black Hills, BHSU has access to a multitude of outdoor field research sites and specialized laboratories where faculty and students work closely with scientists in several government agencies, industries, and organizations.

BHSU, the only comprehensive university in western South Dakota and the third-largest university in the state, has an enrollment of more than 3,400 students from all 66 South Dakota counties, 41 states, and 33 countries. Students attend classes at the Spearfish campus, in the state's second-largest city at BHSU–Rapid City, and online. BHSU has also offered classes on location at Ellsworth Air Force Base since 2021.

The campus leads the region in sustainability efforts and academic programs in business, education, natural sciences, American Indian studies, exercise science, and psychology. It also places great importance on extending its human and physical resources to the people of the state and region. The University is home to the Sanford Science and Math Education Center, the South Dakota

Center for Enterprise Opportunity, the Center for the Advancement of Math and Science Education, and many other centers that provide education and outreach to the region.

Exciting initiatives in the Black Hills include innovative collaboration among K-12 and higher education partners, operation of a research lab at the world class Sanford Lab, and entrepreneurial growth. In 2021, BHSU also partnered with The Indian University of North America at Crazy Horse Memorial to provide accreditation for their two undergraduate summer courses. Dakota State University Madison, South Dakota

Dakota State University has a long tradition of innovation. In 1881, it became the first teacher training institution in the Dakota Territory, educating some of the earliest teachers in the area. In 1984, the mission for the university expanded to emphasize computer technology and information systems in support of the state's growing banking and financial services industry. By the turn of the 21st century, DSU was repeatedly listed as one of the top ten most-wired campuses in the nation, and one of the first in the nation to issue a computer tablet or notebook to students. As the century moves ahead, Dakota State continues to focus on cutting-edge technology and innovative educational endeavors and has gained a national reputation for its technology-centric learning and research environment, which is preparing students for 21st century careers.

Technology Leadership

Dakota State University is a national leader in all things cyber. All education graduates earn their technology endorsement; our health information management programs are consistently ranked top in the nation. In cyber fields, DSU holds three Center of Academic Excellence (CAE) designations from the National Security Agency (NSA), in cyber defense education, cyber defense research, and cyber operations.

This academic excellence has built momentum for innovative cyber research leading to the construction of a new building to house the Madison Cyber Labs (MadLabs®) at Dakota State. The $18 million MadLabs® facility, completed in 2019, includes state-of-the-art secure labs where students and researchers can pursue work critical to the growth of the cyber universe. The building also establishes the first and only hub of cybersecurity and cyber operations expertise, research, economic development, and application in South Dakota. Additional research and entrepreneurial spaces are available in the newly acquired Entrepreneurial Building north of the DSU Fieldhouse, with educational program resources available to students, staff, and community members through the Paulson Cyber Incubator and Entrepreneurial Center.

MadLabs® allows for multiple interdisciplinary research, development, application, and scholarship clusters for the study of new ideas in a variety of cyber fields, including adaptive technology, digital forensics, health information technology, business analytics, women in cybersecurity, and cyber-ethics. These labs engage students, faculty, and professionals in partnerships with other universities, government organizations, business and industry corporations, nonprofits, and international higher education.

Accreditations

Dakota State University is accredited by the following agencies:

- The Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools through the HLC's Open Pathways process.
- Council for Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP).
- South Dakota Department of Education.
- Accreditation Council for Business Schools and Programs (ACBSP).
- Commission on Accreditation for Health Informatics and Information Management Education (CAHIIM).
- State Approving Agency as programs eligible for veterans' benefits.
- Undergraduate and graduate cyber programs are accredited by the National Security Agency (NSA).

Programs of Study

Dakota State offers 23 technology-focused and technology-infused degree programs in four undergraduate colleges: the College of Education, the College of Business and Information Systems, the College of Arts and Sciences, and The Beacom College of Computer and Cyber Sciences. An example of program growth and development is the two new undergraduate degrees in Artificial Intelligence, one in The Beacom College, and one in the College of Business and Information System that focuses on the use of AI for Organizations.

Undergraduate students may take pre-professional programs in 12 fields, including law, athletic training, and many health professions. Several programs, from biology to education to cyber fields, offer undergraduate students option to take graduate courses for dual undergraduate/ graduate credit under the fast track or 4+1 option.

The university's graduate programs are expanding as well. Doctoral degrees in computer science and cyber defense have been added in the last two years, in addition to existing doctoral degrees in cyber operations and information systems. Master's degrees are available in analytics, business administration, computer science, cyber defense, educational technology, health informatics and information management, and information systems. The university also offers several graduate level certificates, to add extra credentialing to a student's skill set with topics such as ethical hacking and banking security.

Innovative Options for Better Employability

Dakota State partners with Southeast Tech, the Sioux Falls School District, and the S.D. Department of Labor to offer students multiple pathways to employment through the South Dakota Partnership for Student Success program, or SDPaSS. Internships, apprenticeships, and several degree options assist students to flexibly pursue or continue additional education. This includes high school students, the unemployed or underemployed, or those who wish to gain additional credentials for their current job. Though the university's Workforce Development Alliance, business partners can underwrite a certain portion of a student's education in exchange for a commitment to work for that company after graduation. Dakota State also offers undergraduate and graduate certificates in numerous fields. Through this credential innovation, students can take stackable credits to add depth or breadth to their education and increase their employability.

Dakota State is also working with other higher education institutions to provide new degree programs that will prepare students for high-demand careers in emerging areas. Examples include partnerships with SDSU to offer a doctoral program in computer science, in which students can specialize in software engineering, cybersecurity, precision agriculture, or artificial intelligence. A partnership with SDSU for CyberAg was created in 2022 and a partnership with USD for cyber law studies is in development.

Dakota State excels in providing opportunities for undergraduate and graduate students to obtain a degree without ever setting foot on campus. The university is a pioneer in distance education, offering distance courses since 1989. Over half of the undergraduate programs and all DSU's graduate programs are offered online.

DSU Graduates Succeed

Graduates of Dakota State University are highly sought after and have no problem finding jobs or placement in competitive graduate programs. Ninety-eight percent of undergraduate students in the Class of 2020 who responded to a Career Services survey reported finding employment or continuing their education. That number is 100% for graduate students. Many majors have 100 percent placement and highly graduates' salaries are competitive and, in many cases, exceed regional averages.

Partnerships and Outreach Highlights

In 2015, the university was the first in the nation to partner with the NSA National Cryptologic School. Through this articulation agreement, NSA military and civilian employees may finish their undergraduate or graduate degrees in cyber operations at DSU. The university also has an articulation agreement with the Community College of the Air Force to offer an associate of applied science degree, or bachelor's degree in Cyber Leadership and Intelligence.

In late 2020, DSU announced a pioneering CyberHealth Strategic Alliance with Sanford Health of Sioux Falls, S.D. This alliance will drive cyberhealth innovation and research and create workforce and economic development opportunities for South Dakota.

DSU hosts several hundred participants each summer in multiple outreach programs, including youth camps, athletic camps, and workshops/camps for teachers, IT professionals, and students. DSU hosts some of the nation's largest residential summer GenCyber camps for middle and high school students interested in cyber security and programming. The week-long camps are funded by grants from the National Science Foundation and the National Security Agency so can be provided to students at no cost. In 2022, two new camps were held on campus, a Lemonade Camp, teaching business and entrepreneurial concepts to elementary students, and a Dakota Dreams: Career Exploration camp.

The Center for the Advancement of Health Information Technology (CAHIT) is a statewide resource center that provides coordination and/or support for regional and statewide health information technology initiatives. It is staffed by DSU outreach services staff as well as graduate and undergraduate students. CAHIT programs include the following:

- HealthPOINT is a health information technology resource and support center for all healthcare providers. They offer technical guidance and best practices information regarding electronic health records as well as privacy and security services such as Security Risk Assessments and Network Penetration Testing. Additionally, they contract with external agencies, such as South Dakota's Department of Health and Department of Social Services for project technical support, application development, and support personnel.
- South Dakota Health Link (SDHL) is a South Dakota Department of Health program providing secure connections for hospitals, health centers, primary care providers, specialists, labs, pharmacies, public health, and other state agencies to benefit patient outcomes. Although South Dakota Health Link is a South Dakota Department of Health entity, program staff are CAHIT employees.

 Health IT Training offers individual coursework in health IT and electronic health records. Twenty individual courses are available on topics ranging from terminology to project management.

The K-12 Data Center provides technology enhancement services to South Dakota's K-12 educational community. The center provides consistent, cost-effective services including email and calendars, email list services, web hosting, course management, streaming media, a help desk for the schools, and more.

Campus Environment

The picturesque campus is located on 62 acres in Madison, S.D. Two nearby glacial lakes provide year-round recreation, such as boating, fishing, hiking, or cross-country skiing.

Student enrollment over the last 20 years has been steadily growing, particularly in graduate programs and with online students. To accommodate growth in students and in program offerings, the campus has grown as well.

Since 2017, DSU has constructed a new, state-of-the-art classroom building, the research and development building (MadLabs®), and a new residence hall. An athletics events center is being constructed, a facility that will provide an improved experience for students, fans, and alumni through an upgraded football stadium, relocated track. esports arena, soccer field, indoor gathering space, Athletics Hall of locker, weight, and training rooms, offices and meeting space, hospitality and VIP media areas. suites. biomechanics lab, classrooms, and restrooms.

Growth promises to continue in the future, as the university moves forward with a program expansion in The Beacom College, a new outreach program with the Governors Cyber Academy, and construction of an expansion of the MadLabs® in Sioux Falls.

The campus is also home to the Karl Mundt Library, and the Smith-Zimmermann Museum, both of which are open to the public. The Dakota Prairie Playhouse hosts performing arts events, conferences, trade shows, seminars, community functions, meetings, banquets, and more.

Through a partnership with the City of Madison and Dakota State University, the Madison Community Center was established in October 2000. The center provides wellness opportunities for city residents and DSU students alike. It features an indoor swimming pool, fitness center, double gym, multi-purpose gym, racquetball court, family center, meeting rooms, childcare center, and locker rooms.

As the university continues to expand and innovate with all things cyber, Dakota State University President José-Marie Griffiths said: "We want all of our students to experience the world as it's going to be through the use and application of emerging and available technologies - a distinguishing feature of this institution."

Regional Comprehensive University

Northern offers an array of in-demand programs including associate, baccalaureate, master's degree and certificate programs and professional development offerings. Quality pre-professional programs prepare students for careers and advanced professional studies in medicine, healthcare, law, engineering and graduate studies, and graduate programming aligns with areas of need in the state and region. A high percentage of students are residents of South Dakota and remain in the state after graduation.

Northern offers students multiple pathways to educational and career goals through collaborative partnerships with SDBOR institutions, technical colleges, high schools, and regional employers. The university is recognized for expertise in E-Learning and Hy-Flex Delivery designed to accommodate the unique needs of students—many of whom are first generation and/or low income and/or place-bound.

Northern also houses the Center for Statewide E-learning, providing equitable access to quality secondary education content courses for high school students across the state of South Dakota—in many locations, where teacher shortages preclude adequate content delivery.

Northern serves the public good as a vibrant hub for education and entrepreneurship, workforce and economic development, arts and culture, health and wellness, athletics, and community engagement.

The Campus

Northern serves more than 3,000 students at the undergraduate and graduate level on its picturesque campus in Aberdeen and online. Northern also serves students at Huron Community Campus, as well as more than 2,000 high school students across the state through distance education provided by the NSU Center for Statewide E–Learning.

Northern's campus has been enhanced by several recent building projects that were primarily privately funded. The state-of-the-art Harvey C. Jewett IV Regional Science Education Center opened in fall 2019, advancing research and educational opportunities for Northern students and faculty, as well as promoting science education for K-12 students in the region and statewide.

Three new residence halls have opened on campus in recent years, offering modern amenities and suite-style living.

The Educational Impact Campaign, a partnership between Northern and the South Dakota School for the Blind and Visually Impaired, paid for a brand new SDSBVI school facility that opened in early 2020. This campaign also includes the Athletic and Recreation Fields and Pavilion, which were completed in fall 2018 and are used by both NSU and SDSBVI. The third project of the campaign is the Regional Sports Complex, which opened in fall 2021.

Enrollment Numbers

Northern serves more than 3,000 students at the undergraduate and graduate level. That includes more than 200 degree-seeking graduate students and 75 students enrolled in Northern's pre-professional programs. Also, more than 500 students are living in residence halls on the NSU campus. As of spring 2022, 76 percent of NSU students are from South Dakota—and we're proud that two-thirds of our graduates remain in the state after graduating.

Alumni Career Outcomes

Northern helps the regional economy thrive, leading the Board of Regents in the percentage of its student body who are South Dakota residents and who remain in the state after graduation. The university is also an economic driver for the region and state, resulting in a $180.7 million economic impact, 1,008 jobs and $6.8 million state and local taxes. Northern has formed numerous community and regional partnerships, including with the Huron community campus, Regental campuses and technical colleges. Northern is also collaborating with the Rural Innovation Network and Center on Rural Innovation (CORI) to build a digital economy in Aberdeen and the region.

Northern offers a personalized educational experience, with faculty scholars and support staff who mentor and challenge students—fostering a learning environment to unleash their potential. Northern delivers a full range of individualized services to help all students succeed within a safe, welcoming campus community.

Every academic program has a focus on real-world career experience—whether it's through an internship, our year-long teacher residency program, or another form of experiential learning. Students at Northern have the unique opportunity to conduct cutting-edge research at the undergraduate level that has a lasting, real-world impact, such as participating in a project that could lead to a cure for a disease or implementing a campus-wide recycling effort. After graduation, our graduates boast an estimated 95 percent acceptance rate for law school, an 88 percent acceptance rate into medical/physician's assistant school, and an 85 percent acceptance rate into dental school.

Athletics

Northern offers 15 NCAA Division II athletic programs affiliated with the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference on the regional level. NSU Wolves men and women's basketball teams have led the nation in home attendance for 13 years running—exceeding the attendance of many of the region's DI institutions. In fall 2021, Northern officially entered a new era of NSU Athletics with the opening of the on-campus Regional Sports Complex. The inaugural football game was played that fall in Dacotah Bank Stadium. In spring 2022, the inaugural softball game was played at Koehler Hall of Fame Field. The complex also includes the impressive Kessler's Champions Club event space and locker rooms, which are connected to the NSU Barnett Center, making the entire facility one contiguous sports complex.

Fine Arts

The Johnson Fine Arts Center (JFAC) is home to one of the strongest fine arts departments—including art, music and theater—in the Midwest. JFAC is a valuable resource not only for campus, but the community as well, attracting regional audiences to the more than 65 events held there during the year. Numerous NSU concerts, productions and speeches take place at the facility, including the annual Common Read Lecture and multiple theater performances. Outside events held at JFAC range from community dance recitals to performances by visiting musicians—as well as the South Dakota American Legion Boys State program, hosted each year at Northern.

Collaboration with Sanford Underground Research Facility

South Dakota Mines has a major advantage in proximity to the Sanford Underground Research Facility (SURF). The university collaborates on research and engineering in virtually every aspect of SURF. Both faculty and students work alongside researchers from around the world on experiments involving cutting-edge physics, geothermal energy, biology, cosmology, science education, engineering design, and other disciplines.

Some of the collaborations include:

- South Dakota Mines researchers are among approximately 1,000 scientists and engineers participating in the Deep Underground Neutrino Experiment (DUNE) at SURF. Construction of the massive DUNE caverns at SURF is now underway. DUNE is a billion-dollar leadingedge, international experiment for neutrino science and proton decay studies.
- Mines researchers are pioneering bioscience with microbes found deep underground at SURF.
 This research is leading to exciting breakthroughs that could benefit the state agriculture sector with new value-added products.
- The Department of Geology and Geological Engineering has joined scientists from eight national labs and six universities in a study on geothermal systems, technology that scientists believe could power nearly 100 million American homes. This groundbreaking work can aid American energy independence.
- Mines professor Dr. Frank Strieder leads the Compact Accelerator System for Performing Astrophysical Research (CASPAR) at SURF. The experiment recreates the nuclear fusion processes inside stars.
- Mines faculty member Cabot-Ann Christofferson serves as a liaison for the MAJORANA Project for Oak Ridge National Lab. The MAJORANA Demonstrator may determine whether the neutrino is its own antiparticle.
- The mining engineering department is collaborating with Caterpillar on a new underground test facility at SURF.
- Mines civil engineering students and faculty have created cutting-edge type of shotcrete to stabilize an above-ground rock wall at the SURF. The goal of the research collaboration is to determine the viability of replacing steel with cost-effective fibers in shotcrete for mining applications.

This combined research will provide a positive economic impact on South Dakota for decades to come. The $40 million state investment in SURF, approved by state lawmakers and past Governor Mike Rounds, is paying itself back many times over.

The Black Hills and Badlands Advantage

South Dakota Mines is a short drive from the Black Hills National Forest and Badlands National Park where four seasons of adventure await from hiking to snowboarding, biking to paddleboarding, rock climbing to fly fishing, hunting, fishing, off-road motorsports, and snowmobiling. Mines' location provides an exceptional range of outdoor recreation and rejuvenation. The high quality of life in the Black Hills is part of why the university is the center of a new high-tech economic boom driven by savvy alumni turned entrepreneurs who are proud to call the area home.

Co-Curricular Programs

CEO Business Program - The Competitive Entrepreneurial Opportunity (CEO) Program is a comprehensive, semester-long program that immerses students in learning to draft a business plan and culminates in a pitch competition for cash prizes. Students from the CEO program have gone on to win several state and national business plan competitions in addition to securing other forms of funding and recognition, including dominating at the SD Governor's Giant Vision Business Plan Competition for the past eight years running.

CAMP - The CAMP program brings together students, faculty, and industry leaders to partner on real-world engineering projects. Currently there are 14 multidisciplinary teams that compete regionally and nationally. Many of these teams work on their projects in the CAT Lab, sponsored by the Caterpillar Corporation, with the tools and parts needed to build an award-winning Baja car or concrete canoe. CAMP encourages students to grow academically by encouraging development of interpersonal and leadership skills.

Opportunity for All - Mines is committed to promoting an inclusive learning environment where everyone can grow and succeed. The university promotes a sense of community that cultivates collaboration, inclusion, and innovation across campus, and we offer services and support for each person's individual situation.

Internships and Co-Ops - At South Dakota Mines, 70% of graduates have had at least one paid internship or co-op experience before graduation. One hundred percent of graduates who completed an internship or a co-op landed jobs in their field of study with an average starting salary of $71,491. The most recent data shows 222 employers in 43 states hired Mines students for internships and co-ops with an average wage of $20.96/hour. Many students secure employment though these experiences.

Accreditation

South Dakota Mines is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission (HLC), a commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. HLC is the recognized accrediting agency for the north central states. All Mines undergraduate engineering programs are accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology (ABET), which is the recognized accrediting agency for engineering. The bachelor's degree in computer science is accredited by the Computing Accreditation Commission of ABET. Additionally, the curriculum in chemistry is approved by the American Chemical Society.

Faculty

Faculty teach an average class size of 24. Faculty members also carry out extensive research, bringing to the classroom the newest technologies and practices used in industry. Mines faculty promote hands-on learning in collaborative environments that mirror real-world projects in industry.

Summer Camps

Each summer, Mines welcomes youth from around the country to summer camps ranging from robotics to metallurgy and forensics. The award-winning camps strive to engage the next generation of STEM leaders.

Student Life

Students can participate in more than 100 organizations on campus. Student activities and organizations range from music, drama, professional, cultural, sororities, fraternities, athletics, politics, service, religious, military, professional, and special interests.

Our students have represented South Dakota Mines at a variety of national and international events. The challenges provided in these, and other competitions, give students the opportunity to apply classroom theory to real-world engineering and science problems, so they are ready to contribute to the workforce when they graduate.

Athletics

South Dakota Mines has 13 NCAA Division II teams and is a member of the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference. Our scholar athletes have an average GPA of 3.08, with an average of 3.0 for eighteen semesters in a row. Athletes work hard in the classroom, on the field, and in the community, averaging 2,500 hours of community service annually.

Campus Life

As freshmen, students are paired with a mentor and encouraged to take part in campus student organizations and hands-on research activities. This instills the Mines culture around peer mentoring and teamwork with a mix of social activities that keep the college experience fun and adventuresome. Oncampus housing is available throughout the entire Mines journey, with traditional residence halls to apartment-style living for upperclassmen and graduate students.

WiSE

The Women in Science and Engineering (WiSE) program is one part of the university effort to meet industry-driven demand for more women graduates. WiSE is designed to educate, recruit, retain, and graduate academically motivated women in STEM fields. WiSE provides students with support, encouragement, information, mentorship, and networking opportunities intended to help them graduate and stay in STEM fields.

Esports

The Hardrocker Esports Team is part of CAMP and competes against other teams in the state and region in online gaming. South Dakota Mines was the first university in the state to create a varsity esports team. Through esports, students develop communication, strategy, and leadership skills as they develop lifelong friendships.

Faculty Mentorship

The student-to-faculty ratio at Mines allows faculty to get to know their students. The personal attention students receive is one of the top reasons they choose to come to Mines and why they stay. Their passion drives student success beyond the classroom by coaching award-winning teams such as the Mines Bladesmithing Team, which won the world championship Bladesmithing Competition in 2017 and took second place in the world in 2022.

Music

Despite not having a music major, nearly 215 students participate in a variety of music ensembles from concert choir to pep band. Mines music program has shown a 94% increase in the number of students over the past decade. Concerts are held on campus each fall and spring, with special holiday concerts performed at the local cathedral each December.

Social and Academic Experiences

Mines has a very active campus life. Students stay busy with over 100 organizations, intramural sports, and competitive athletic and academic teams. Students enjoy the collaboration with peers and faculty as they are given freedom to explore projects that interest them, like building a nuclear reactor, creating a rover that explores volcanoes, competing against other schools in a NASA sponsored robotic mining competition, or searching for dark matter 4,850 feet below ground.

Student Services

The university offers a robust list of services students can take advantage of as they journey through their college experience. Programs under the "Opportunity for All" umbrella include Campus Ministries, Student Success, the Ivanhoe International Center, Residence Life, Retention and Testing, Student Development, Counseling and ADA Services, the Office of Inclusion, Career Services, Tiospaye Program, Women in Science and Engineering, and other efforts. Mines strives to provide all students with the tutoring, support, and services they need to succeed in college and in life. Our advising and mentoring services are designed to give students a personalized educational experience. Students can work with mentors, advisors, and counselors to solve any academic and personal problems that can prevent them from graduating.

Student Success Center

Student Success is a place for students to gather for tutoring and academic counseling. Center staff work with faculty advisors to ensure students are getting the help they need to be successful in their classes. The new Slide Rule Math Help Center is key to support the cornerstone discipline of math at Mines.

Veterans

South Dakota Mines is consistently ranked highly for its outreach to veterans. In 2022, Military Friendly ranked Mines third in the nation for its service to veterans. Mines is the only public university in the state in its category to achieve a Top 10 ranking from the organization as a "2022-2023 Military Friendly® School." Mines' Veterans Resource Center provides a wide range of resources, networking, and support.

Wellness and Recreation

The Stephen D. Newlin Wellness and Recreation Center provides students, faculty and staff with a large fitness and workout area, bouldering wall, a two-court gym, and racquetball courts. The center orchestrates various group exercise programs and intramural sports and activities.

Outreach and Community Service

Continuously improving quality also means ensuring that we remain contributing members of our Rapid City community. Faculty, staff members, and students donate time and money to organizations and charities throughout the Black Hills. We have a responsibility to share our expertise, our resources, and ourselves to make this an even better place to live and we take that responsibility seriously.

A major goal at South Dakota Mines is to assist our students in becoming engaged in their communities through the act of service. Each year, Mines students and staff members impact our local community through meaningful service projects. We believe it is important to prepare our students for their roles as citizens and leaders through community–based educational and volunteer experiences. Our students, staff, and faculty logged 4,632 community service hours in the most recent academic year.

SOUTH DAKOTA STATE UNIVERSITY

South Dakota State University is the state's largest, most comprehensive higher-education institution. As South Dakota's 1862 Morrill Act land-grant university, SDSU had a fall 2021 enrollment of nearly 11,500 students from 47 states and 66 countries.

In line with our land-grant mission, the university's focus is on three key areas that provide access to the benefits of higher education-teaching, research, and outreach. When classes opened for the fall 2021 semester, students could choose from 86 majors, 101 minors, 38 specializations, 37 master's degree options, 16 Ph.D. programs and two professional doctorates. The university also offers courses at various off-campus sites as well as undergraduate and graduate programs online through the Office of Continuing and Distance Education.

Research and outreach connect the university to thousands of South Dakotans each year, providing services, resources and new knowledge that spur economic development and growth and enhances our communities.

Barry H. Dunn has served as the 20th president of South Dakota State University since May 2016. He is the fourth alumnus chosen to lead SDSU.

Imagine 2023: Aspire. Discover. Achieve

The university's strategic plan serves as a road map to the strategic direction of the university. It provides goals, strategies, and core values by promoting academic excellence, community engagement, research and creative thought, excellence, and high performance.

Land-grant universities are rooted in their mission of providing broad access to higher education and engaging with the people and communities throughout South Dakota and the region in ways that transform the world. SDSU is committed to maintaining success for its students and faculty, driving research and scholarly activity and being good stewards of public resources.

SDSU continues to welcome a diverse student body that represents nearly every state in the nation and more than 65 countries around the world. Its faculty is equally represented, coming from all corners of the United States and from countries all over the world.

Higher education in the United States and in South Dakota continues to provide individuals great value and support communities, businesses, industry, and the overall global economy. However, the challenges of providing access to the benefits of higher education remain as compelling today as they were in 1862 when the land-grant system was founded. It remains the responsibility of everyone at SDSU to strive for excellence, create opportunities and make South Dakota an exciting, growing, and dynamic part of our nation and the world.

Changing the Landscape of Higher Education

The Wokini Initiative is SDSU's collaborative and holistic framework to support American Indian student success and Indigenous nation-building.

The partnerships and collaborations with South Dakota's nine reservations are having a positive impact on tribal communities throughout the state. They create greater access to higher education for Native American students while embracing culture and creating opportunities to positively impact themselves, their families, and the communities of South Dakota.

The growth of the Wokini Initiative is paramount to improving the lives of American Indians in South Dakota through the benefits of higher education.

The initiative has received various grants and awards. They include:

- New Beginning for Tribal Students, which authorizes the USDA to match state funding for programs at land-grant colleges or universities that support American Indian students. The authorization is capped at $5 million per year and $500,000 per state. The provision was signed in the 2020 Agriculture Appropriations Bill.
- A three-year, $1 million grant from the Margaret A. Cargill Philanthropies to provide a professional development series for SDSU staff and faculty to foster a culturally responsive and supportive campus environment for American Indian students to increase retention and graduation rates.
- The 2019 Bush Prize for Community Innovation from the Bush Foundation. The $500,000 grant supports the development of a Tribal Research Summit, additional funding for the Wizipan Program, Native American Nursing Education Center, Rapid City site, American Indian studies programming, AISC's cultural programming and American Indian student emergency fund and other identified student needs.
- The 2020 Outstanding Student Support Program Award by the NASPA (Student Affairs Administrators in Higher Education) Indigenous Peoples Knowledge Community.
- In collaboration with Sinte Gleska University, SDSU received a $500,000, three-year grant titled Igluwiyeya (Prepare oneself): Pathways from Preparation to Graduation at Land-Grant Institutions.

Promoting Academic Excellence

The responsibility of any university is to meet the academic needs of its students and ensure graduates are prepared for the future and possess the education and tools to impact society. This starts with not only enrolling the right number of first-year students, but also creating an inclusive population of students and faculty that serve our university.

SDSU continues to see an upward trend in four-year and six-year graduation rates. SDSU has set records for the number of degrees conferred the past five years with 13,095 students, according to the South Dakota Board of Regents, with a record of 2,671 graduates in 2019. The average of 2,619 graduates during the five-year period is more than 400 graduates per year higher than any other regental university. It also represents 38% of the total graduates from all public higher education institutions in South Dakota.

A national study by The New York Times and the Urban Institution Center of Education Data recognized SDSU's efforts. While the study focused on six-year graduation rates, the university ranked as one of the top-performing institutions in terms of exceeding expected graduation rates for public four-year universities.

Accreditation

Accreditation is a benchmark of quality for any academic program, and the number of accredited programs at South Dakota State University continues to increase. Currently 49 programs are accredited at SDSU, an increase of 18 over the past eight years. The goal for Imagine 2023 is to reach 61 accredited programs, something that is attainable with the continued commitment and efforts.

In addition to being a standard for quality, accredited programs inform potential employers they are hiring students who are well-trained and prepared to enter the workforce. Recent reaccreditation was given to the university's Wintrode Student Success and Opportunity Center as a certified tutor training program at Levels I, II and III by the College Reading and Learning Association. The National Association for the Education of Young Children also recently reaccredited the university's Fishback Center for Early Childhood Education.

In addition, SDSU continues to explore new academic offerings to better prepare our graduates to meet dynamic workforce needs. Recently, the following new academic initiatives were launched:

- The School of English and Interdisciplinary Students officially launched July 1, 2002.
- SDSU was selected as one of seven metaversities by VictoryXR, providing students virtual learning opportunities whether they are on campus or remote.
- The Wintrode Student Success and Opportunity Center launched in January 2022 to provide student success opportunities for all students.
- The first class of the SDSU professional program in veterinary medicine students were honored at the inaugural Blue Coat Ceremony.

Enrollment

Overall enrollment at South Dakota State University for fall 2022 semester was 11,331 students. The campus welcomed a first-time freshman class of 2,192 students, an 8.5% increase over fall 2021.

Retention

Several factors can impact a university's enrollment, but retention plays a critical role in maintaining stability in the number of students for any university. IMPACT 2018 and Imagine 2023 both set a goal of 80% retention, which is measured by the number of first-time, full-time students returning from their freshman year to their sophomore year. The retention baseline for IMPACT 2018 in its first year was 75%.

High retention throughout all classes also ensures strong graduating classes, which have been shown by the 2019 and 2020 graduation numbers.

The announced fall 2021 retention rate of 79.9% is within .1% of reaching the goal and the 81% retention the previous year surpassed the 80% goal. The two-year retention rate surpasses the previous high of 78.6% established in fall 2016.

During the five-year period of IMPACT 2018, university leadership continued to implement its student success model launched in 2015 that included:

- Acclimation to South Dakota State University in Year 1.
- Promotion and persistence to graduation in Years 2 and 3.
- Activities to provide students a pathway to finish and achieve success beyond graduation in Year 4.

The impact of the student success model played an important role in increased retention and graduation. Lowering graduation requirements, while increasing the number of dual credits taken, also helped increase graduation numbers by shortening the time to a degree.

Wintrode Student Success and Opportunity Center

SDSU opened the Wintrode Student Success and Opportunity Center in January 2022. The center is a hub of everything related to student success at SDSU and embraces SDSU's land-grant mission by supporting educational access for all students.

Services provided through the center related to student success include advising, tutoring, weekly supplemental instruction sessions, the academic success and recovery program, TRIO programs to support first-generation and income-eligible students, summer bridge programs to support a student's transition to SDSU, and Study Hub resources to support study strategies and academic support.

As part of the center, SDSU created a Student Success NETwork, which is comprised of student success professionals meeting monthly and holding training programs to enhance collaborations to serve the individual needs of all students. Students will continue to be able to access services through any of the offices and positions within the Student Success NETwork partners, with the Wintrode Student Success and Opportunity Center being the place for students unsure where to start.

Student Success NETwork partners include:

- · American Indian Student Center
- · Continuing and Distance Education
- Disability Services
- · Graduate School
- · Van D. and Barbara B. Fishback Honors College
- · International Affairs
- · Multicultural Affairs
- · New Student Orientation
- · Residential Life
- · Veterans Affairs

The center is part of SDSU's commitment to the South Dakota Board of Regents' statement released in August 2021 titled Opportunity for All. SDSU's central focus on the opportunity center is aligned with student success efforts and tied to its mission of access as South Dakota's land-grant institution.

Academic Excellence

Rhodes scholar - SDSU senior Hattie Seten became the university's second recipient of the Rhodes scholarship, announced Nov. 21, 2020. SDSU's first Rhodes scholar, Maj. Gen. Alan A. Nord '52, earned a master's degree in general chemistry from Oxford.

The Rhodes scholarship is a fully funded postgraduate award for students from around the world to study at the University of Oxford. This scholarship seeks students who are "young leaders of outstanding intellect and character, who are motivated to engage with global challenges."

Seten, one of two selections from District 13, is pursuing a master's degrees in global governance and diplomacy and one in refugee and forced migration studies. The Sioux Falls native and Sioux Falls Lincoln High School graduate graduated from SDSU with degrees in political science, global studies and Spanish and she served as the Students' Association president.

Seten already lived in Marrakech, Morocco, and Amman, Jordan, studying Arabic under a U.S. Department of State National Security Language Initiative for Youth Scholarship and a U.S. Department of State Critical Language Scholarship. She was also a fellow in the Public Policy and International Affairs Program at Princeton University during the summer of 2020 and completed an internship with the U.S. Department of State at the U.S. Embassy in Mexico City in 2019. Her career goals include working with the U.S. Department of State as a foreign service officer.

Perfect scores - South Dakota State University's College of Nursing had three classes post a perfect 100% on the 2019 National Council Licensure Examination. The NCLEX is a national exam for the licensing of nurses in the United States and Canada.

The college's Brookings site spring graduates went 66 for 66 on first attempt with nearly 70% of those students passing in the minimum 75 questions. The standard class graduates at the Sioux Falls site went 31-31 while its accelerated cohort was 33-33. The Rapid City site had 27 of its 29 students pass on the first attempt.

In 2019, 330 students graduated with bachelor's degrees in nursing from SDSU, giving them the greatest opportunity to become registered nurses. A bachelor's degree prepared nurse, once licensed, is typically given more responsibility with greater opportunity for higher salaries and career advancement.

National Champions - The South Dakota State University Quarter Scale Tractor Team was named champions of the 2022 American Society of Agricultural and Biological Engineers International Quarter Scale Tractor Student Design Competition in July 2022. The team competed against 24 teams from across the United States and Canada.

At the beginning of the school year, each team is given a 31-hp Briggs & Stratton engine and a set of Titan tires, which they design their tractor around. The teams determine tractor design, select components, and build the tractor and then prepare a written design report and formal presentation. The SDSU team focused their design goals on a substantial redesign of the operator station and turning the transmission 90 degrees to allow for easier access to get on and off the tractor.

At the competition, tractors are judged by a panel of industry experts based on innovation, manufacturability, serviceability, safety, sound level and ergonomics. The tractor is first evaluated in a technical inspection process where industry engineers seek to ensure the tractors comply with competition safety and design rules. The tractor is then put to the test through a maneuverability course, durability course and a tractor pull. Additionally, the team gives a formal design presentation explaining various aspects of the tractor's design to industry judges.

American Society for Nutrition Award - Samitinjaya Dhakal, a South Dakota State University graduate student, won the American Society for Nutrition's Graduate Student Research Award Competition. The award is the highest possible honor for graduate students pursuing research in the nutrition science discipline.

Dhakal's project, titled "Impact of Protein Sources in a Guideline-Based Omnivorous Diet on Circulating Biogenic Amine Metabolites: A Randomized Controlled-Feeding Trial," was chosen from 216 applicants. Students were evaluated on their research concept, experimental design, data analysis, quality of conclusions drawn and communication skills by a panel of experts that included Paul Coates, president of the ASN and former director of the Office of Dietary Supplements at the National Institutes of Health.

Research and Innovation

Research and scholarly activities have been a driving factor of South Dakota State University's success since 1887 when the Hatch Act established agricultural experiment stations in higher education institutions, creating a pathway for research to be at the core of the land-grant mission.

SDSU research activities produced $51.5 million in research expenditures in FY21, a decrease from $60.8 million in FY20. The decrease in FY21 was directly related to the COVID-19 pandemic and fewer available award opportunities.

Despite the challenges created by the pandemic, SDSU researchers continue to conduct cuttingedge research to solve societies complex problems.

Assistant professor Anamika Prasad became the first mechanical engineering faculty member to receive the prestigious National Science Foundation CAREER award. Her research is using plants, such as sunflowers and soybeans, to design next-generation composite materials.

Yue Zhou, who received the Jerome J. Lohr College of Engineering Young Investigator Award, is determining how a new material helps increase the stability, as well as the storage capacity, of lithium-ion batteries. The science will provide guidelines for using lithium metal to develop next-generation batteries to power electric cars and store renewable energy.

Assistant nursing professor Sarah Mollman and Brandon Varilek are adapting a supportive palliative care intervention, known as Project ENABLE, to meet the needs of cancer patients in west central South Dakota. They are the first researchers to receive a Hillman Serious Illness and End-of-Life Emergent Innovation grant, along with the RSCA funding, to accomplish their goals.

Professor Hemachand Tummala secured a National Institutes of Health grant to do preclinical testing of a localized treatment to reduce colon inflammation. He has been working on developing formulations that unleash the anti-inflammatory power of curcumin—a component in turmeric, the yellow spice used in curry—for nearly a decade.

Engagement

Research helps society drive economic development in the state and region by combining university with industry expertise to solve complex problems. The SDSU Division of Research and Economic Development works closely with university researchers, business leaders and other sponsors to promote faculty expertise aimed at solving real-world problems in society and industry. The university has positioned itself as a leader in agriculture and precision agriculture, remote sensing, and life sciences. The research enterprise also capitalizes on expertise in digital technology related to agriculture and resource management.

Highlights include:

- 1,618 graduate students, most of whom are engaged in faculty research, are enrolled in 37 master's degree programs, 16 doctoral programs and two professional programs in seven colleges.
- Faculty provide scientific leadership in three state research centers: the Center for Drug,
 Disease and Delivery; the Center for Biologics Research and Commercialization; and Biosystems Networks and Translational Research (BioSNTR). In addition, SDSU researchers play a key role in the South Dakota Biofilm Science and Engineering Center, the South Dakota Center for Electrochemical Energy Storage and the South Dakota Center for Understanding and Disrupting the Illicit Economy.
- SDSU is home to the North Central Regional Sun Grant Center, Geospatial Sciences Center of Excellence, and the Ethel Austin Martin Program in Human Nutrition.
- POET Bioproducts Institute, located in the Research Park at South Dakota State University, will bring together researchers from SDSU and the South Dakota School of Mines and Technology and industry partners to transition bench scale research in bioprocessing and bioproducts to the marketplace. The lab will focus on biomaterials and specialty animal feeds.

- Precision agriculture brings together researchers from computer science, statistics, engineering, remote sensing, and agriculture, as well as industry partners to increase the profitability and sustainability of agriculture.
- Undergraduate students are encouraged to get involved in research through the Undergraduate Research, Scholarship and Creative Activities Day, the South Dakota Legislative Poster Session and through the Journal of Undergraduate Research. Students in the Van D. and Barbara B. Fishback Honors College conduct original research as part of their graduation requirements.

Economic Impact

South Dakota State University meets the land-grant mission by providing access to higher education and reaching the citizens throughout our state by providing resources and new knowledge to positively impact its citizens. The university also serves as a major driver of economic impact for the state.

SDSU accounts for 45% of the overall economic impact of public higher education in South Dakota, according to a study released by the South Dakota Board of Regents using FY19 data.

The six degree-granting regental institutions and the BOR office produce an annual economic impact of $2.1 billion, while sustaining more than 12,000 jobs. SDSU contributed more than $936 million of that total and 4,848 jobs.

SDSU's overall yearly economic impact has increased by $170 million, or 22% over nine years. The BOR conducted economic impact studies in 2009, 2016 and 2019. The most recent report also determined that 52% of SDSU graduates remain in South Dakota and have a direct economic impact of $100.8 billion over a 40-year career.

Research and scholarly activities generated $104.5 million in economic impact and 603 jobs, according to the FY19 data of $67.6 million in research expenditures. That equated to a return of $1.54 on every $1 spent on research.

Locally, SDSU's economic footprint accounted for $561.8 million for Brookings County. That figure includes 2,909 jobs and $19 million toward local taxes and $31.6 million in overall state and county taxes. Those numbers include a student tax benefit of $2,742 due to jobs and local spending, a benefit that comes from an average of $8,860 of local spending by students who live off campus. One SDSU student produces an average yearly economic impact of more than $81,000 and .36 jobs to the state and community.

Educational Outreach

Online learning not only expands educational access to students who cannot travel to campus, but also gives on-campus students greater scheduling flexibility, allowing for an enriching and enjoyable campus experience.

Online degrees are fully accredited master's, bachelor's and associate degrees, and certificate programs available to all learners, regardless of location.

SDSU added 21 online degree and certificate programs thus far during IMAGINE 2023, increasing its total from 33 to 54. The goal was 46. Four online programs were ranked nationally by U.S. News & World Report:

- · No. 41, Best Online Bachelor's in Psychology Programs.
- No. 44, Best Online Master's in Nursing Programs.
- No. 246, Best Online Bachelor's Programs.
- No. 242-321, Best Online Master's in Education Programs.

Online degrees are determined by several factors, including workforce and student demand and the percentage of courses already offered online toward a particular degree. Undergraduate programs added online during IMAGINE 2023 include:

- Undergraduate certificate geographic information sciences
- Undergraduate certificate new product and venture development
- Undergraduate certificate phlebotomy
- Undergraduate certificate workplace intercultural competence
- · Associate of Science agricultural science
- Associate of Science data science
- Bachelor of Science geographic information sciences
- · Bachelor of Science human development and family studies

And included the following 13 graduate-level offerings:

- Graduate certificate advanced graduate mathematics
- Graduate certificate graduate mathematics
- Graduate certificate community development
- Graduate certificate management foundations
- Postgraduate psychiatric mental health nurse practitioner
- · Postgraduate nurse educator
- · Postgraduate clinical nurse leader
- Master of Arts English
- Master of Engineering engineering
- Master of Science human sciences, developmental sciences
- Master of Science interdisciplinary studies
- · Master of Science operations management
- Doctor of Nursing Practice psychiatric mental health nurse practitioner

The challenges associated with adding online degrees center around the ability to operationalize the process and create incentives and opportunities that allow faculty and others to incorporate the classes into already busy teaching and research workloads.

Off-site Programs

Off-site programs are also an important factor. South Dakota State University offers courses and degree programs in Aberdeen, Pierre, Rapid City, and Sioux Falls. The offerings allow students in and or around these communities to take advantage of a combination of face-to-face and online course offerings to meet their academic goals.

SDSU recently added eight degree and certificate programs. The following programs have been added at the respective locations:

- Associate of Science agricultural science (Rapid City & Sioux Falls)
- Associate of Science engineering technology (Sioux Falls)
- Associate of Science respiratory care (Rapid City & Sioux Falls)
- Bachelor of Science respiratory care (Rapid City & Sioux Falls)

- Bachelor of Science nursing accelerated (Rapid City)
- Undergraduate certificate geographic information sciences (Sioux Falls)
- Undergraduate certificate Wizipan leadership and sustainability (Crazy Horse Memorial)
- Graduate certificate academic advising (Rapid City)

High School Dual Credit

The high school dual credit program is another important metric. South Dakota's high school dual credit program allows eligible high school juniors and seniors to gain college credit while completing their high school graduation requirements.

SDSU served 808 high school juniors and seniors through the high school dual credit program for the fall 2021 semester, a record high after having 609 enrolled the previous year.

SDSU launched the Jackrabbit Access College Early First Bank & Trust Scholarship and Jackrabbit Journey Scholarship programs beginning fall 2020. The Jackrabbit Access College Early First Bank & Trust Scholarship provides scholarship dollars to students who are economically disadvantaged and would otherwise not be able to participate in the high school dual credit program. The Jackrabbit Journey is a one-time scholarship provided to first-time, full-time SDSU students who earned credits through successful completion of SDSU dual credit coursework.

Community Outreach

Whether it is athletics or the arts, South Dakota State University's state-of-the-art facilities and performances draw attendees from throughout the region.

Oscar Larson Performing Arts Center

The generosity of key donors and a unique partnership between SDSU and the city of Brookings became reality on the South Dakota State University campus in April 2019 when the $50 million expansion of the Oscar Larson Performing Arts Center opened. The theater's grand opening featured off-Broadway performances of "Chicago, the Musical."

The facility gives SDSU and the community of Brookings a regional center for music, theater, and dance performances.

The comprehensive facility is utilized by the Brookings School District and community organizations. It serves as a regional and state hub for music and theater competitions, camps, and festivals. The Miss South Dakota pageant is currently held in the facility.

Students now perform in the proscenium theater, which seats 850 people and includes some of the most advanced technology for lighting and sound of any theater between Minneapolis and Denver. The upgraded facility also includes a 225-seat recital hall, large ensemble, and multiuse rehearsal facilities in addition to the previously built concert hall and black-box-styled theater.

Interdisciplinary and service learning are a component of many undergraduate students' experiences.

NCAA Division I Athletics Facilities

The University of South Dakota athletic department brings distinction to the university through a championship culture that fosters student-athlete success, contributes to a vibrant campus community, celebrates victories, and instills Coyote pride. The Coyotes compete in NCAA Division I athletics as members of both the Missouri Valley Football Conference and the Summit League.

One of the region's most recognizable, man-made landmarks, the DakotaDome has served as the cornerstone of Coyote athletics since 1979. The multipurpose DakotaDome, home to Coyote football, indoor track and field, and swimming and diving, completed significant renovations in 2020, including adding premium seating for fans, new team facilities like locker rooms and lounges, and upgraded lights and sound.

USD will also begin construction on its Wellness Center expansion in spring 2023 and projects completion in fall 2024. This $31.25 million project will add an estimated 45,800 gross square feet to the facility and house a new, indoor competition pool and seating for approximately 500 people. There will also be a wellness pool, wet classroom, hot tub, steam room, athletic locker rooms, expanded wellness locker rooms, meet management rooms, coaches' offices, and lifeguard rooms amenities that will serve campus and community members alike.

Other recent facility projects include the Sanford Coyote Sports Center, the Lillibridge Track and Field Complex and the First Bank & Trust Soccer Complex, which were all finalized in 2016. The 6,000-seat Sanford Coyote Sports Center is adjacent to the DakotaDome and is home to Coyote basketball and volleyball. In addition, the facility houses classrooms, health and research labs, athletic offices, advanced therapy and training rooms, and a state-of-the-art weight room.

USD's Division I athletic programs continue to have much to celebrate. In 2021, the USD football team made national headlines for a game-winning Hail Mary play in the DakotaDome, with Sports Illustrated naming "The Catch" their Play of the Year. The USD women's basketball team also made USD history by reaching the Sweet 16 of the NCAA women's basketball tournament. A key player in that tournament, Hannah Sjerven, became the first Coyote to compete in the WNBA. Sjerven is one of several Coyote athletes who has gone on to play at the most elite level. Other Coyotes who have made it to professional or Olympic levels include recent graduates Jack Cochrane, who signed a free agent contract with the Kansas City Chiefs this year; Chris Streveler, who plays for the New York Jets; and Chris Nilsen, who won the silver medal in pole vaulting at the Tokyo Summer Olympics. These individuals are a testament to the high-quality athletic programs at USD.

USD's basketball programs - which include six South Dakota players between both teams continue to reach outstanding heights. USD women's soccer won 10 games last year – a program record at the Division 1 level. USD's women's indoor and outdoor track and field teams were both named Summit League Champions. The success of USD's student-athletes extends beyond the big games; Devalon Whitcomb was one of 22 athletes across the nation named to the 2021 Allstate Good Works team, which recognizes college football athletes for unwavering commitment to community service. And all USD's athletic programs maintain a commitment to academic success. In 2021, each team has a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher – a testament to the hard work of the students and the consistent support of the university's faculty and staff. The Student Athlete Success Center has proven to make a difference for student-athletes, connecting students with the academic resources they need to thrive. In 2021, 12 Coyotes earned academic all-district honors and three have been named Academic All-Americans. Track and field athlete Jessie Sullivan, the reigning Summit League Male Scholar Athlete of the Year, also earned an NCAA postgraduate scholarship.

Financial Aid and Scholarships

More than 90 percent of first-time, full-time undergraduate students receive some form of financial aid through grants, loans, and work-study jobs. USD is committed to ensuring that academically qualified students with financial need receive sufficient assistance to allow them to successfully complete their education. USD awards more than $9.5 million in scholarships annually. USD offers a variety of merit- and need-based aid programs that include up to four-year scholarship awards.

Leadership

President Sheila K. Gestring became the 18th president of the University of South Dakota on June 22, 2018, after serving as chief financial officer since 2010 and a part of the USD finance staff since 2006. She is a South Dakota native, and the second USD alumnus and woman to serve as president.

Gestring has a strong vision for the future of the university coupled with operational expertise. She is a vigorous defender of public education, particularly the liberal arts, and has a reputation as an inventive problemsolver. Her advanced approach to solving complex budgetary issues provides students with access to lifechanging research experiences, as well as scholarships that make higher education affordable for all.

Many agencies provide critical services to the state, including the Business Research Bureau, Government Research Bureau, Small Business Development Center, Speech and Hearing Clinic, the TRIO Programs, and the Center for the Prevention of Child Maltreatment, established by the 2017 Legislature. USD sets the standard with its values of excellence in teaching and learning, advancement of knowledge, public service, freedom of thought and expression, and personal responsibility and development.

USD – Sioux Falls

The university launched USD – Sioux Falls in summer 2022. Over the next 10 years, South Dakota projects 20 percent growth in high school graduates, mostly in Sioux Falls. Many of these students will want to stay close to home while pursuing their studies. USD's new vision provides a generational opportunity to educate students in the Sioux Falls region and beyond.

At USD-Sioux Falls, students can pursue degrees that range from associate to doctorate, in fields like education, business and health care. One of South Dakota's most pressing needs is a skilled workforce, particularly in health care. As the state's leader in health care education, USD is prepared to answer this call in the state's largest city. By consolidating several programs – including all Sioux Falls-based nursing classes, the Master of Public Health, the Master of Social Work and USD's new CRNA program – the university has created a health sciences hub that serves not only USD students, but regional employers as well. In addition to these programs, USD has positioned the Center for the Prevention of Child Maltreatment and the Center for Rural Health in a space that allows for expansion as demand for these services increases.

This health sciences hub, much like USD's Vermillion-based programs, will provide students opportunities to learn in an interprofessional, team-based environment, replicating modern hospitals and clinics. It will also allow for USD's partnerships with the state's largest health care systems to continue to grow, providing students with unique clinical experiences and opportunities for future careers, and filling gaps in the health care workforce.

History

The South Dakota School for the Deaf (SDSD) was established in 1880 and continues to provide educational and support services to students who are deaf or hard of hearing. The school was originally governed by the Board of Charities and Corrections. In 1943, SDSD was placed under the control of the South Dakota Board of Regents through a constitutional amendment. Initially, all services were provided on the campus in Sioux Falls. In 1977, SDSD established a statewide Outreach Program supporting students, parents, and educators in both the school and home environments. In 2009, SDSD shifted to an all Outreach Program for children who are deaf or hard of hearing, expanding educational support services to public and private schools and daycares for students, families, and educators in South Dakota. In March of 2017, services were expanded through the opening of the SDSD West River Clinic in Rapid City.

In November 2019, the SDSD campus was sold and a new office and clinic location was established at 4101 W. 38th St. Suite 101, Sioux Falls, SD 57106. Currently, SDSD serves over 560 children from birth to age 21 (or high school graduation).

A State Resource

SDSD collaborates with many other agencies and groups to maximize service delivery, as its mission statement is "SDSD Partners in Educational Success." SDSD services include audiology, multidisciplinary assessments, outreach consultation and personnel training, specific direct services, and support for local school districts. Regional Outreach Consultants and Pediatric Audiologists observe students in their educational setting and assist with listening technologies. SDSD supports American Sign Language (ASL) development, shares educational strategies, and provides best practice recommendations to support children's learning in their home and educational environments.

The SDSD statewide audiological team provides hearing screenings and evaluations for children at the clinics in Sioux Falls and Rapid City and with the statewide mobile hearing lab. The SDSD student evaluation team provides multidisciplinary assessments for children who are deaf or hard of hearing. The evaluation team looks at the whole child and assesses achievement in several areas, including Language, Speech, Listening, Cognitive, Behavioral, Social, Academic, American Sign Language, Transition, OT/Sensory, and Audiology.

The SDSD Outreach Consultants and Pediatric Audiologists are typically among the first contacts for South Dakota parents and local schools when there are questions relating to hearing loss. SDSD staff can provide training and resources for schools and families. Regional student and family educational and social activities are planned throughout the year for all ages, as well as family sign classes onsite and through technology.

Each summer, SDSD holds two summer enrichment programs in the month of July, Hands in Motion and Just Communicate. It's a great time for students around the state to come together to meet and learn from each other and the SDSD Team. The "Hands in Motion" program is for students ages 2 through fifth grade. Deaf education teachers focus on language development, expanding language opportunities, hands-on activities, field trips, and families connecting with other families. The "Just Communicate" program is offered to students who meet specific criteria regarding their speech/language developmental skills. Students are offered two therapy sessions a week from a speech language pathologist, knowledgeable about children who are deaf and hard of hearing. For the child and parents, it provides an opportunity to maintain or grow their developmental skills.

SDSD uses distance learning technology to enhance meetings with parents and school district staff, and the SDSD website provides information related to programs and services, as well as information regarding varied hearing levels.

SDSD educates others by providing information about its programs, resources, and activities through its website (https://sddeaf.org), as well as Facebook and Pinterest.

South Dakota School for the Blind and Visually Impaired Aberdeen, South Dakota

For over one hundred years the South Dakota School for the Blind and Visually Impaired (SDSBVI) has provided educational services and programs to students, parents, and local school districts in South Dakota.

From the very beginning, the emphasis of instruction was to provide students with vision loss an equal opportunity for an education. In addition to academics, students are taught the skills that help them to be successful at work, home, and in the community.

Today, the SDSBVI serves students in local schools statewide, as well as offering educational programs for kindergarten through 21 years of age on campus in Aberdeen. As the vision specialists for the state, SDSBVI personnel administer evaluations, provide books and classroom materials, conduct aware- ness and training programs, and provide consultation in areas ranging from preschool intervention to technology and transition.

The South Dakota School for the Blind was opened on March 1, 1900, in Gary, South Dakota, under the jurisdiction of the Board of Charities and Corrections. On July 1, 1945, the school was placed under the governance of the South Dakota Board of Regents. In 1959, the Legislature appropriated funds for construction of a new school in Aberdeen near Northern State University (NSU). Classes began in the new building on September 18, 1961. The name of the school was changed in 1970 to the South Dakota School for the Visually Handicapped. In 1979 the mission of the school was expanded to include deaf-blind students, as well as those who were blind or visually impaired.

On July 1, 1999, the school's name was changed to the South Dakota School for the Blind and Visually Impaired, as it is known today.

The South Dakota Board of Regents approved the building of the new South Dakota School for the Blind and Visually Impaired in October of 2017. From the start of the project Northern State University and the South Dakota School for the Blind and Visually Impaired have joined together as partners to make the project fit both organization's needs. This collaboration has developed into teaching, learning, and student opportunities that dually benefit the two organizations. On January 13th, 2020, the South Dakota School for the Blind and Visually Impaired started classes at its new home on the former grounds of Jerde Hall located on the east side of the Northern State Campus. The SDSBVI building was financed in collaboration with Northern State University and the Northern State University Foundation. A land swap was completed for SDSBVI to move to its new location and provide a repurposing of the former school's location to be the new site for Northern State Universities football and softball complex. The approximate cost of the SDSBVI building and grounds was about $13.85 million. Funding was obtained through donations to the NSU Foundation capital campaign and both Governor Neom's and Governor Daugaard's each donated $2.5 million from their Future Fund. The South Dakota School for the Blind and Visually Impaired building site and architecture was selected based on the needs of the students and staff that utilize the South Dakota School for the Blind and Visually Impaired. Special consideration was given to provide orientation and mobility opportunities for students. A building dedication was held on August 13th, 2020.

The school is accredited by the State of South Dakota and maintains compliance with state and federal laws and regulations governing special education.

On Campus Program

The South Dakota School for the Blind and Visually Impaired provides an academic program for students from preschool through high school. In addition to the subjects traditionally taught in public schools, special emphasis is given to adapting teaching materials and methods to meet the unique needs of blind or visually impaired learners. A transitional program is available to serve students that are extending their education past the 12th grade through age 21.

The instruction of the Expanded Core Curriculum, blindness skills, is addressed during the student's attendance on campus. Braille, orientation and mobility, daily living skills, low vision utilization, assistive technology, social skills, recreation, and career awareness are a regular part of this expanded curriculum. Certified teachers of the visually impaired residential staff members have extensive experience teaching the skills of Orientation blindness. Certified Mobility Specialists® teach students to travel safely and independently. Certified Low Vision Therapists® teach students to use magnification and lighting to maximize remaining vision. A Transition Specialist helps students prepare for employment and community living.

SDSBVI places a strong emphasis on involvement in the wider community. Great partnerships with vocational rehabilitation services assist students to learn job skills and explore employment opportunities. In addition, Aspire and NSU have provided additional opportunities for expanded educational enrichment. Community based education, recreation, and employment experiences help students to acquire skills that will last a lifetime.

During June and July, eligible students can utilize our summer sessions to maintain or work on emerging Expanded Core Curriculum skills. Students from public school programs can apply for entrance into this programming in early spring.

Outreach Program

The SDSBVI provides service to blind, visually impaired, and deaf-blind students statewide through evaluation, consultation, staff development, and shared resources.

Comprehensive Educational Evaluations conducted by the SDSBVI staff are available for students enrolled in public school programs at no cost. The team of vision specialists evaluates the child's strengths and needs and makes specific educational recommendations for their educational program.

Outreach Vision Consultants travel the state to work with parents and school district personnel. They provide information on applicable teaching methods and classroom adaptations, loan equipment and teaching materials, provide training for students and staff, and generally serve as a support for parents and teachers.

The Transition Specialist works with students, parents, local school districts, and adult service providers (especially Service to the Blind and Visually Impaired) to develop realistic post high school plans and ensure that the student has the experiences needed to prepare them for further education, vocational training, or employment.

SDSBVI personnel provide staff development and community presentations on a variety of topics related to blindness. Increasing public awareness of vision loss and the employment potential of blind people is part of the mission. Cooperative efforts with NSU have made it possible to develop online courses for teachers and paraprofessionals that can be accessed on the internet, which can lead to endorsements through the Department of Education. The SDSBVI professional library collection and specialized materials are available for interlibrary loan. The collection may be accessed through Northern State University.

Overview

The South Dakota Human Services Center (HSC) is a licensed specialty hospital and the state's only public psychiatric hospital. HSC provides inpatient psychiatric treatment, adult substance uses disorder treatment and skilled nursing home care to patients who are unable to be served in less restrictive settings. The hospital's operating capacity is 277 beds.

- Adult Acute Psychiatric Program
- Adult Psychiatric Rehabilitation & Recovery Program
- Geriatric Program
- Adolescent Program
- Adult Chemical Dependency Program

Background

HSC began serving patients in 1879, ten years before South Dakota achieved statehood. According to historical records, Territorial Governor William A. Howard was notified that Dakotans needing care could no longer be served in neighboring states. The other states' efforts were concentrated on providing adequate care for their own people settling in the region. Governor Howard, at his own expense, purchased two vacated buildings and had them moved north of Yankton and the Center began. Today, HSC operates in one building, also known as the Mickelson Center for the Neurosciences. The building opened in October of 1996 and is located on a campus along with the Department of Correction's Yankton Community Work Center, state offices and other non-patient care buildings.

Program Descriptions

Adult Acute Psychiatric Program. The Adult Acute program provides for initial assessment and stabilization of adult psychiatric patients, ages 18 years and older. Emphasis is on providing care, treatment, and stabilization services that will enable the patients to return to and function in the community at the earliest possible time. Depending on their needs, once stabilized and assessed, some patients discharge back to the community after being served by this program while other patients transfer to the Psychiatric Rehabilitation or Geriatric Program. Each patient receives in individualized treatment plan and the program promotes and facilitates the patient's independent functioning in daily activities, including group and individual treatment.

Psychiatric Rehabilitation Program. The Psychiatric Rehabilitation program provides individualized and person-centered services for adult patients who are coping with persistent mental illness and who need to remain at the hospital for medication management or skills building. The goal of the program is to assist the patients through strength-based treatment, while developing the skills that will help them to live in the least restrictive setting possible. Treatment is provided to empower the patient to take responsibility for their education, training, and vocational experiences in preparation for community reintegration.

Geriatric Nursing Home Program. The Geriatric program provides nursing home care for patients who, because of the severity of their illness, cannot be served by a nursing home in the community. Staff prepare a comprehensive individualized treatment plan for every patient, with emphasis on providing the patient every opportunity to function as independently as possible in activities of daily living. A treatment goal is for the patient to live in the least restrictive environment, including discharge when appropriate community support services are available. Care, treatment, and rehabilitation provided by direct-care staff is coordinated with occupational therapy, social services, and therapeutic recreational programming. Additional services are available on a referral basis from a registered dietitian, occupational therapist, physical therapist, psychologist, speech/hearing pathologist, and audiologist. The Geriatric program is certified by CMS for Medicaid reimbursement.

Adolescent Psychiatric Program. The Adolescent program provides adolescents with inpatient psychiatric treatment for individuals 12 through 17 years of age. The program's goals are to develop and initiate individualized treatment and discharge plans, provide effective treatment, and to support the patient in transition to home or another appropriate placement setting. The program provides short, intermediate, and longer-term placements and services for youth depending on their needs. The Adolescent program is certified by CMS for Medicaid reimbursement.

Adult Inpatient Substance Use Disorder Program. The Adult Inpatient Substance Use Disorder program serves adults 18 and older with a primary chemical dependency diagnosis. Patients may also have a co-occurring mental health disorder. Treatment for chemical dependency is based on the principles of Alcoholics Anonymous and Narcotics Anonymous. Additionally, this program utilizes Motivational Interviewing, Cognitive Behavioral Therapy and Contingency Management to assist with recovery. Patients must be detoxified and drug-free 72 hours prior to admission.

Mission

The mission of the South Dakota Developmental Center is to provide comprehensive specialized services designed to enhance quality of life and community inclusion for people with intellectual and/or developmental disabilities.

The South Dakota Developmental Center (SDDC), a residential intermediate care facility, is a division of the Department of Human Services. Established by an act of the legislature in 1899, SDDC was opened for admissions in 1902. The census reached an all-time high of 1,199 in 1963.

The SDDC is currently providing services to approximately 80 people. The population decrease is a direct result of the establishment of community-based service providers in various cities throughout the state. These community-based services have enabled people to live closer to their families and obtain services in less-restrictive community settings.

The SDDC's campus is located on state-owned land adjacent to the northwest city limits of Redfield. Persons supported at SDDC spend most of their time between the residential living areas, an Activity Center, All Faiths Chapel, employability and learning/educational areas, and a Food Service building. Administration and Granite office buildings, as well as Health Care Services and Environmental Services Buildings, which include a powerhouse, maintenance, carpenter shop and a warehouse, are also on the campus.

Provision of Services

SDDC takes the Interdisciplinary (ID) Team and Person-Centered approaches to provision of services. Program development for each person begins with comprehensive evaluations and assessments in all areas of daily living, with recommendations being addressed by an ID Team. The ID Team, including the person supported, and their family member/guardian, determines which combination of therapies, activities, teaching, and services are needed to assist the person with gaining skills designed to move to a less restrictive environment. All services are monitored through a Case Management process and revised to continually meet the needs of the person.

SDDC supports a population with varying degrees of disabilities and ages and offers a variety of treatment environments. Based on the needs of each person, development may focus on the areas of personal care, social interaction skills, behavioral impulse control, opportunities for choice and decision making, daily living skills, etc.

Depending upon specific needs of the person, techniques may be utilized to enhance sensory motor skills, responses to stimuli, orientation to one's environment, etc. Employability skills and educational opportunities are also offered. SDDC further encourages and makes every effort to maintain positive and supportive family interaction. Individualized and group sessions help people to increase their understanding of legal proceedings when needed due to involvement with the legal system. All services are provided to each person in one of 10 residential living modules and 3 transitional living homes.

Medical Services

Healthcare Services provides medical services to all person's supported at the facility. Appointments are scheduled through healthcare for on and off campus medical appointments. The facility has the following medical areas on campus: Pharmacy, Nursing, Physician Assistant, Medication Aides, Certified Medial Assistants, Dental Office, Speech and Language and Physical Therapy. SDDC contracts with other facilities and professions to aide in providing needed care for persons. Telemedicine with eCare went live in 2019 which helps in providing support and emergent needs to persons and medical staff. The use of electronic medical records went into place in 2019. At times students do rotations for school at medical with Pharmacy and/or Nursing through the Rural Health program or part of nursing practicum. Dental services work with the University of South Dakota (USD) Dental Hygiene as well as Lake Area Technical College (LATC) Dental assisting students throughout the school year allowing rotations for student opportunities to work with person with special healthcare needs. Pharmacy provides pharmaceutical services which includes appropriateness of drug therapy, drug interactions, drug/ disease interactions and laboratory values.

Transitional Living

Four transitional homes are located on the SDDC campus. The focus in these homes is on developing independent living skills preparation for moving into a community setting. People usually live in these homes on a short-term basis prior to leaving SDDC; however, living in a transitional living home is not a prerequisite for discharge from the facility.

Residential Living

Individualized services are provided to men and women who have significant mental health and behavioral issues. These services are provided in a highly structured and supervised living environment. A primary focus is to assist people with increasing their awareness of how behaviors affect themselves and others. This includes learning to accept responsibility for their own behavior, as well as learning positive replacement behaviors. The outcome of learning socially accepted behaviors and skills assists the person to achieve greater independence in making positive life choices.

Opportunities

The Center provides a wide variety of skill building and employability opportunities both on and off campus. On campus opportunities include, recycling, woodworking/crafts, metal salvage, detailing vehicles, laundry and janitorial. Other on campus work options available are the golf driving range, delivering mail on campus, working in the canteen, dish crews along with other kitchen work, Embroidery and Vinyl work, vending machines and the Practical Assessment Exploration System (PAES Lab) which is a simulated work assessment and hands on curriculum where students learn by doing in a structured setting. Off campus volunteer and employability options are also available which focus on the interests and preferences of the person supported. SDDC works with the City of Redfield, churches and local employers to secure volunteer and employment opportunities which help to develop natural networks of support.

Recognized as an integral part of everyone's life, opportunities are provided for socialization and participation in recreational activities. People may choose to participate in activities such as attending movies, religious services, sporting events, field trips and picnics. Other favorites include swimming, exercising, shopping, dining out, fishing and boating, utilizing the local library, and visiting friends and family. The philosophy under which SDDC operates focuses on providing the care, guidance, opportunities and support necessary for each person to progress to a higher level of personal autonomy.

The Dakota Territorial Legislature met in February of 1889, and, while in session, they passed a bill establishing the Dakota Soldiers' Home to be located in Hot Springs, South Dakota. The bill carried an appropriation of $45,000 for construction with the objective for the home to provide care for veterans.

On October 3, 1998, Governor William J. Janklow and Major General Philip Killey dedicated the South Dakota Veterans Home to Medal of Honor recipient, Michael J. Fitzmaurice. Fitzmaurice received the Medal of Honor for "conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity of action at the risk of his life above and beyond the call of duty as a Specialist Four, United States Army, Troop D, 2nd Squadron, 17th Calvary, 101st Airborne Division at Khe Sanh, Republic of Vietnam, March 23, 1971."

The mission of the Michael J. Fitzmaurice Veterans Home is to honor and serve South Dakotan veterans by providing high-quality care in a setting that promotes dignity and independence in a home-like environment, now and for generations to come.

On September 25, 2013, veterans and government leaders gathered in Hot Springs for a groundbreaking for the state's new Veterans Home. Veterans moved into the new home in January 2016.

The new Michael J. Fitzmaurice South Dakota Veteran's Home is a 133,000 square foot stacked two-story, 100-bed facility. The two-story design solution evolved to help address site concerns in Hot Springs and also proved to be a more economical design solution. The living spaces are broken into eight neighborhoods housed in eight wings, with each neighborhood having a living room, dining room, and kitchen area.

Residents have access to physical therapy, speech therapy, occupational therapy, and fitness and recreational opportunities. The town square provides access to a bistro, post office, library, pharmacy, barber/beauty shop, chapel, theater, and community room.

Caregivers focus on serving specific households to better cater to residents' needs while fostering personal care relationships.

The Home is the only State Veterans Home in the United States to be powered by a solar field and biomass that uses wood chips as their fuel source. Use of these two green energy sources reduces annual fuel costs.

It was a rainy morning, but that didn't stop a vision that started over 25 years ago. On September 9, 2019, ground was broken, and South Dakota's first State Veterans Cemetery become a reality.

This cemetery is a tribute to patriots. It immortalizes the sacrifices that have been made for our freedoms. Even more than that, though, it's a way we can show the next generation that sacrifice does not go unnoticed. One thing that was particularly special was that this was a project for veterans by veterans. Many of our South Dakota veterans spent over a decade working to bring a state veterans cemetery to South Dakota. It was their passion for this project that kept the momentum going and made the dream a reality.

Others played a part, too. The city of Sioux Falls gifted the state over 60 acres of land, and the federal Department of Veterans Affairs awarded the South Dakota Department of Veterans Affairs, a $6.9 million grant to design, construct, and get this project across the finish line. The South Dakota Department of Veterans Affairs worked closely with numerous state agencies, design firm Stockwell Engineers and the National Cemetery Administration to design the cemetery. Journey Construction served as the Construction Manager at Risk for the project.

This grant funded construction of 610 pre-placed crypts, 999 cremains gravesites, 660 columbarium niches, 50 memorial wall markers, a main entrance, an avenue of flags, an administration building, a maintenance facility, an assembly area, a committal shelter, a scatter garden, a memorial walkway, landscaping, and supporting infrastructure.

Burial options at the state veterans' cemetery include casket, cremation (in-ground) cremation (columbarium) and scattering garden. Along with a gravesite or columbarium niche, a pre-placed grave liner, a headstone, or niche cover and perpetual care are also provided.

The cemetery will be able to perform up to seven committal services a day beginning on the hour from 9a.m. - 3 p.m. with the 3 p.m. service limited to cremation remains services. Each committal service is limited to 20 minutes.

History

The origins of the South Dakota State Fair predate statehood. In 1885, the Territorial Legislature created the Board of Agriculture for the purpose of "forwarding the interests of agriculture, horticulture, manufacturing, and domestic arts." The Board's principal function was to organize and maintain an annual exhibition highlighting agriculture and stock raising. The first fair was held in Huron from September 29 to October 2, 1885. After that, the fair traveled to several communities across the state until 1905, when Central and NorthWestern Railway Company deeded 85 acres of land in Huron to the State of South Dakota to establish a permanent fairground.

Organization

Today, the 190-acre fairgrounds is managed by the South Dakota State Fair, a division of the Department of Agriculture and Natural Resources, and the State Fair Commission, an advisory board made up of 13 members appointed by the Governor. The commission includes seven at-large members, and six members appointed from the following groups: 4-H, a city of Huron resident, a Beadle County resident, a vendor, an exhibitor, and a South Dakota State University employee.

The State Fair

The fairgrounds' primary purpose is hosting the South Dakota State Fair, the premiere family and agriculture event of the year in South Dakota. Each year the fair hosts South Dakota's 4-H finals in the 4-H Livestock Complex and the Nordby Exhibit Hall. Built in 2016, the 30,000 square foot Nordby Exhibit Hall is a modern facility perfect for trade shows, concerts, exhibitions, meetings, and conventions. In addition to showcasing 4-H and other exhibits, the fair provides a carnival, concerts (with top tier acts like Toby Keith and Little Big Town), six stages of free entertainment, unique vendor and food options, and educational opportunities for fairgoers including: the FFA Ag Adventure Center, What's That Bug? A tour of SD Insects, Deep Science: Intro to the Sanford Underground Research Center, and animal shows like Extreme Raptors. All these experiences help make the South Dakota State Fair successful year after year.

Challenges and Opportunities

On October 31, 2020, a fire destroyed the State Fair Open Class Beef Complex – it was a sad day at the fairgrounds and across the state as the beef complex held many memories for South Dakotans. However, out of adversity comes new opportunity and chance to build for the future. To replace the Beef Complex, the state is working to build the DEX: Dakota Events CompleX – a new multipurpose livestock and equestrian facility.

The 150,000 square-foot facility will be able to house two, full-size equestrian arenas, or 1,700 plus cattle stalls, and seat up to 5,000 people. It will be heated for year-round use and have a prefunction and concession area with restrooms. The DEX will provide exhibit space for over 13,000

4-H and FFA students across the state and expand the event hosting capabilities of the fairgrounds. Throughout the year, the DEX will also serve as a major draw for livestock shows, 4-H competitions, FFA Conventions, and rodeos as well as concerts, thrill shows, and more from across the country. The DEX will be open for the 2023 State Fair.

Versatility is key to the fairgrounds' success and the DEX will help the fairgrounds maximize its potential. Currently, on the 190-acre property, there are more than 90 buildings, 1,900 campsites, grandstand facilities, park areas, and visitor parking making event possibilities nearly unlimited. In 2021, the fairgrounds hosted 148 events representing 269 event days.

Several notable and successful events have been held on the SD State Fairgrounds, including the National Junior High Finals Rodeo, the second largest rodeo in the world! Other popular events include Wheel Jam, the South Dakota BBQ Championships, and several National Barrel Horse Association exhibitions. Now, add in the DEX and the opportunities are endless. The goal is to be the number one choice for equestrian and livestock events in South Dakota and throughout the region.

Honoring our Agricultural Heritage

In 1885, the Board of Agriculture's purpose was "forwarding the interests of agriculture, horticulture, manufacturing, and domestic arts" and to organize and maintain an annual exhibition highlighting agriculture and stock raising. Today, the use of the fairgrounds honors that tradition by focusing the State Fair on agricultural, equestrian, youth, cultural, and community events that are family friendly and showcase the best of the great state of South Dakota. Whether through the annual State Fair or the many exciting events hosted on the fairgrounds, people continue to travel to South Dakota from around the state and across the nation creating economic stimulus for Huron and the surrounding communities. Proudly, the South Dakota State Fair continues to be one of the last truly "agricultural" fairs in the United States.

The annual State Fair begins the Thursday prior to Labor Day and runs for five days.

Mike Durfee State Prison Springfield, South Dakota

The Mike Durfee State Prison (MDSP) is located on the former campus of the University of South Dakota at Springfield (USD/S). The 1984 Legislature closed USD/S and authorized the Board of Charities and Corrections to establish the correctional facility. The Springfield State Prison opened in December 1984, when the female inmates from the Women's Correctional Facility in Yankton were transferred to the new institution in Springfield. Male inmates began transferring to the facility in January 1985.

The state's female inmate population was housed in Springfield until the opening of the South Dakota Women's Prison in Pierre in September 1997.

On September 10, 1999, the prison was renamed in honor of Mike Durfee, Deputy Secretary of the South Dakota Department of Corrections. Durfee died of cancer in January 2000.

Facility

The Mike Durfee State Prison is primarily a low-medium custody facility. The prison is home to many work programs. Vocational Education classes in Welding, Construction Technology, Auto Body, and Auto Mechanics are offered.

Mike Durfee State Prison also supervises Community Work Center units in Yankton and Rapid City. Minimum–security inmates are employed in community service work projects across South Dakota, working with non-profit agencies and other state and federal governmental agencies. Inmates at the Community Work Centers can also qualify for work release status, allowing them to be competitively employed in the community.

Work Assignments

The Construction Technology program is using inmates assigned to this site to construct facilities, cabins and boat docks for the Game, Fish, and Parks Department. All vocational programs and worksite areas at Mike Durfee State Prison utilize inmate labor to do work for non-profit agencies and various work projects at the prison.

The Housing Development Authority utilizes inmate labor to construct homes and daycare facilities for the Governor's House Program.

Inmates from MDSP, under staff supervision, provide maintenance and repair of buildings, vehicles, grounds, and assist in food preparation and service.

Programs

Inmates are offered literacy, Adult Basic Education, General Educational Development (GED) classes, cognitive behavioral, financial, and employment evidence-based programming. Treatment is offered for chemical dependency, medical, mental health, and for sex offenders.

The South Dakota Women's Prison is part of the Solem Public Safety Center in Pierre, South Dakota. In 1995, legislation was introduced that authorized the construction of a new prison for women. Before that time, female inmates were housed at the Springfield State Prison.

Facility

The Solem Public Safety Center is a unique facility that houses not only the South Dakota Women's Prison, but also the Department of Corrections Administration office, the Pierre Police Department, Hughes County Sheriff's Office, and a South Dakota Highway Patrol station.

The South Dakota Women's Prison opened and was dedicated on October 23, 1997. The Women's Prison houses all security levels of female inmates. A minimum-security unit known as Unit E opened in 2001. The Pierre Community Work Center houses minimum-security inmates who are on work release or community service status.

The facility also includes a six-bedroom house used for the mother-Infant program, which allows the mother/child relationship to develop and continue during the mother's incarceration.

Approved inmates also work outside the walls for various community organizations and on approved work release assignments.

Programs

In 2022, the DOC, Department of Labor and Regulation and Lake Area Technical College began a pilot program for female inmates to earn a precision machining certificate at the Women's Prison. Students learn manual mills and lathes and Computer Numerical Control (CNC) machining. Those who complete the one-semester program have the opportunity to continue their education to earn an Associate of Applied Science degree in precision machining.

Though much of the original buildings remain, numerous structural changes have occurred over the years.

Facility

The main penitentiary facility contains three housing units. Inmates were housed at the G. Norton Jameson Annex beginning in February 1993. With a 2005 addition, the Jameson Annex contains three housing units within a secure perimeter and a minimum-security unit located outside the perimeter fence, known as the Sioux Falls Community Work Center.

Constitutional Amendment C – Title and Explanation

Title: A Constitutional Amendment Requiring Three-Fifths Vote for Approval of Ballot Measures Imposing Taxes or Fees or Obligating over $10 Million.

Attorney General Explanation: Currently the constitution requires that any new tax or tax increase must be approved either by voters or by two-thirds of the members of each legislative branch. To be approved by voters, such a measure must obtain a majority of the votes cast. This constitutional amendment requires that any initiated measure, proposed constitutional amendment, or referred measure imposing or increasing taxes must obtain three-fifths of the votes cast to be approved.

This constitutional amendment also adds the requirement that any initiated measure, proposed constitutional amendment, or referred measure obligating the state to appropriate $10 million or more in any of the first five fiscal years must obtain three-fifths of the votes cast to be approved.

This constitutional amendment additionally requires any initiated measure, proposed constitutional amendment, or referred measure which imposes or increases fees to obtain three-fifths of the votes cast to be approved.

Vote "Yes" to adopt the amendment.

Vote "No" to leave the Constitution as it is.

2022 General Election Constitutional Amendment D

Title: An initiated amendment to the South Dakota Constitution expanding Medicaid eligibility.

Attorney General Explanation: Medicaid is a program, funded by the State and the federal government, to provide medical coverage for low-income people who are in certain designated categories. This constitutional amendment expands Medicaid eligibility in South Dakota. It requires the State to provide Medicaid benefits to any person over age 18 and under 65 whose income is at or below 133% of the federal poverty level, plus 5% of the federal poverty level for the applicable family size, as provided in federal law. For people who qualify under this amendment, the State may not impose burdens or restrictions that are greater than those imposed on any other person eligible for Medicaid benefits under South Dakota law.

The South Dakota Department of Social Services must submit to the federal government all documentation required to implement this amendment and must take all actions necessary to maximize federal funding for this expansion.

Fiscal Note: The proposed expansion of Medicaid could cover an additional 42,500 eligible individuals, with a total estimated cost over the first five years of $1,515,214,000. For the first five years under current federal law, the state's share of expenses could be $166,244,000 with the state recognizing additional general fund savings of $162,473,000.

Vote "Yes" to adopt the amendment.

Vote "No" to leave the Constitution as it is.

The text of this amendment is 1 page long containing 1 section.

2022 General Election Initiated Measure 27

Title: An initiated measure legalizing the possession, use, and distribution of marijuana.

Attorney General Explanation: This initiated measure legalizes the possession, use, and distribution of marijuana and marijuana paraphernalia by people age 21 and older. Individuals may possess one ounce or less of marijuana. They may also distribute one ounce or less of marijuana without payment or other consideration.

Marijuana plants, and the marijuana produced from those plants, may be possessed under specific conditions. Marijuana plants may only be grown, and the marijuana from those plants may only be possessed, in counties or cities where no licensed retail marijuana store is available or where allowed by county or city ordinances.

Certain violations of the restrictions the measure places on the possession, use, and distribution of marijuana and marijuana paraphernalia are subject to various civil penalties. Individuals under age 21 can attend drug education or counseling instead of paying a civil penalty.

The measure legalizes substances considered felony-controlled substances under State law. Marijuana remains illegal under Federal law.

Judicial or legislative clarification of the measure may be necessary.

Fiscal Note: The State and counties could see a minimal decrease in expenses due to decreased incarceration for marijuana-related offenses, and the State could see marginal additional revenue in the form of new civil penalty fines.

Vote "Yes" to adopt the amendment.

Vote "No" to leave the Constitution as it is.

The text of this initiated measure is 3 pages long containing 6 sections.
