

STATE OF SOUTH DAKOTA
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
EXECUTIVE ORDER 2023-11

Whereas, The year 2026 will mark the 250th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence and the independence of the United States of America; and,

Whereas, “Life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness” remains one of the guiding principles of the nation; and,

Whereas, The United States Congress passed the Northwest Ordinance at the successful conclusion of the American Revolution, defining how new states would be brought into the Union; and,

Whereas, The nation ratified the Constitution and the Bill of Rights that, combined, laid the groundwork that the government’s purpose was to maintain individual liberties; and,

Whereas, The first Independence Day celebration occurred in 1825 in what is present-day Fort Pierre, South Dakota. During negotiations between the United States and the Lakota and Cheyenne tribes, people played games, held horse races, read the Declaration of Independence, and signed a treaty of trade and friendship; and,

Whereas, The nation ratified further amendments to the Bill of Rights after the Civil War, further fulfilling the promise first formulated in 1776; and,

Whereas, The Sisseton Wahpeton Oyate Wacipi conducted and maintained one of the oldest and longest running Independence Day celebrations in South Dakota, which was first held in 1867; and,

Whereas, South Dakota territorial leaders, many of whom were Civil War veterans, implemented this nation’s ideals in South Dakota’s Constitution, which, in concert with the United States Constitution, preserves life, liberty, and allows for the continued “pursuit of happiness” under “the consent of the governed;” and,

Whereas, South Dakotans and South Dakota’s communities, cultural institutions, historical societies, and state, tribal, and local governments are proud partners in the remembrance of the events of the Declaration of Independence and its ideals that unite us; and,

Whereas, South Dakotans appreciate the opportunities secured for them by the Declaration of Independence, the United States Constitution, the Bill of Rights, the institutions created by those documents, and the citizens who served in the Armed Forces; and,

Whereas, To observe this momentous anniversary, the United States Congress established the U.S. Semiquincentennial Commission in 2016 to plan, encourage, develop, and coordinate the commemoration of the United States' history leading up to the 250th anniversary of the United States' founding:
